Foreword

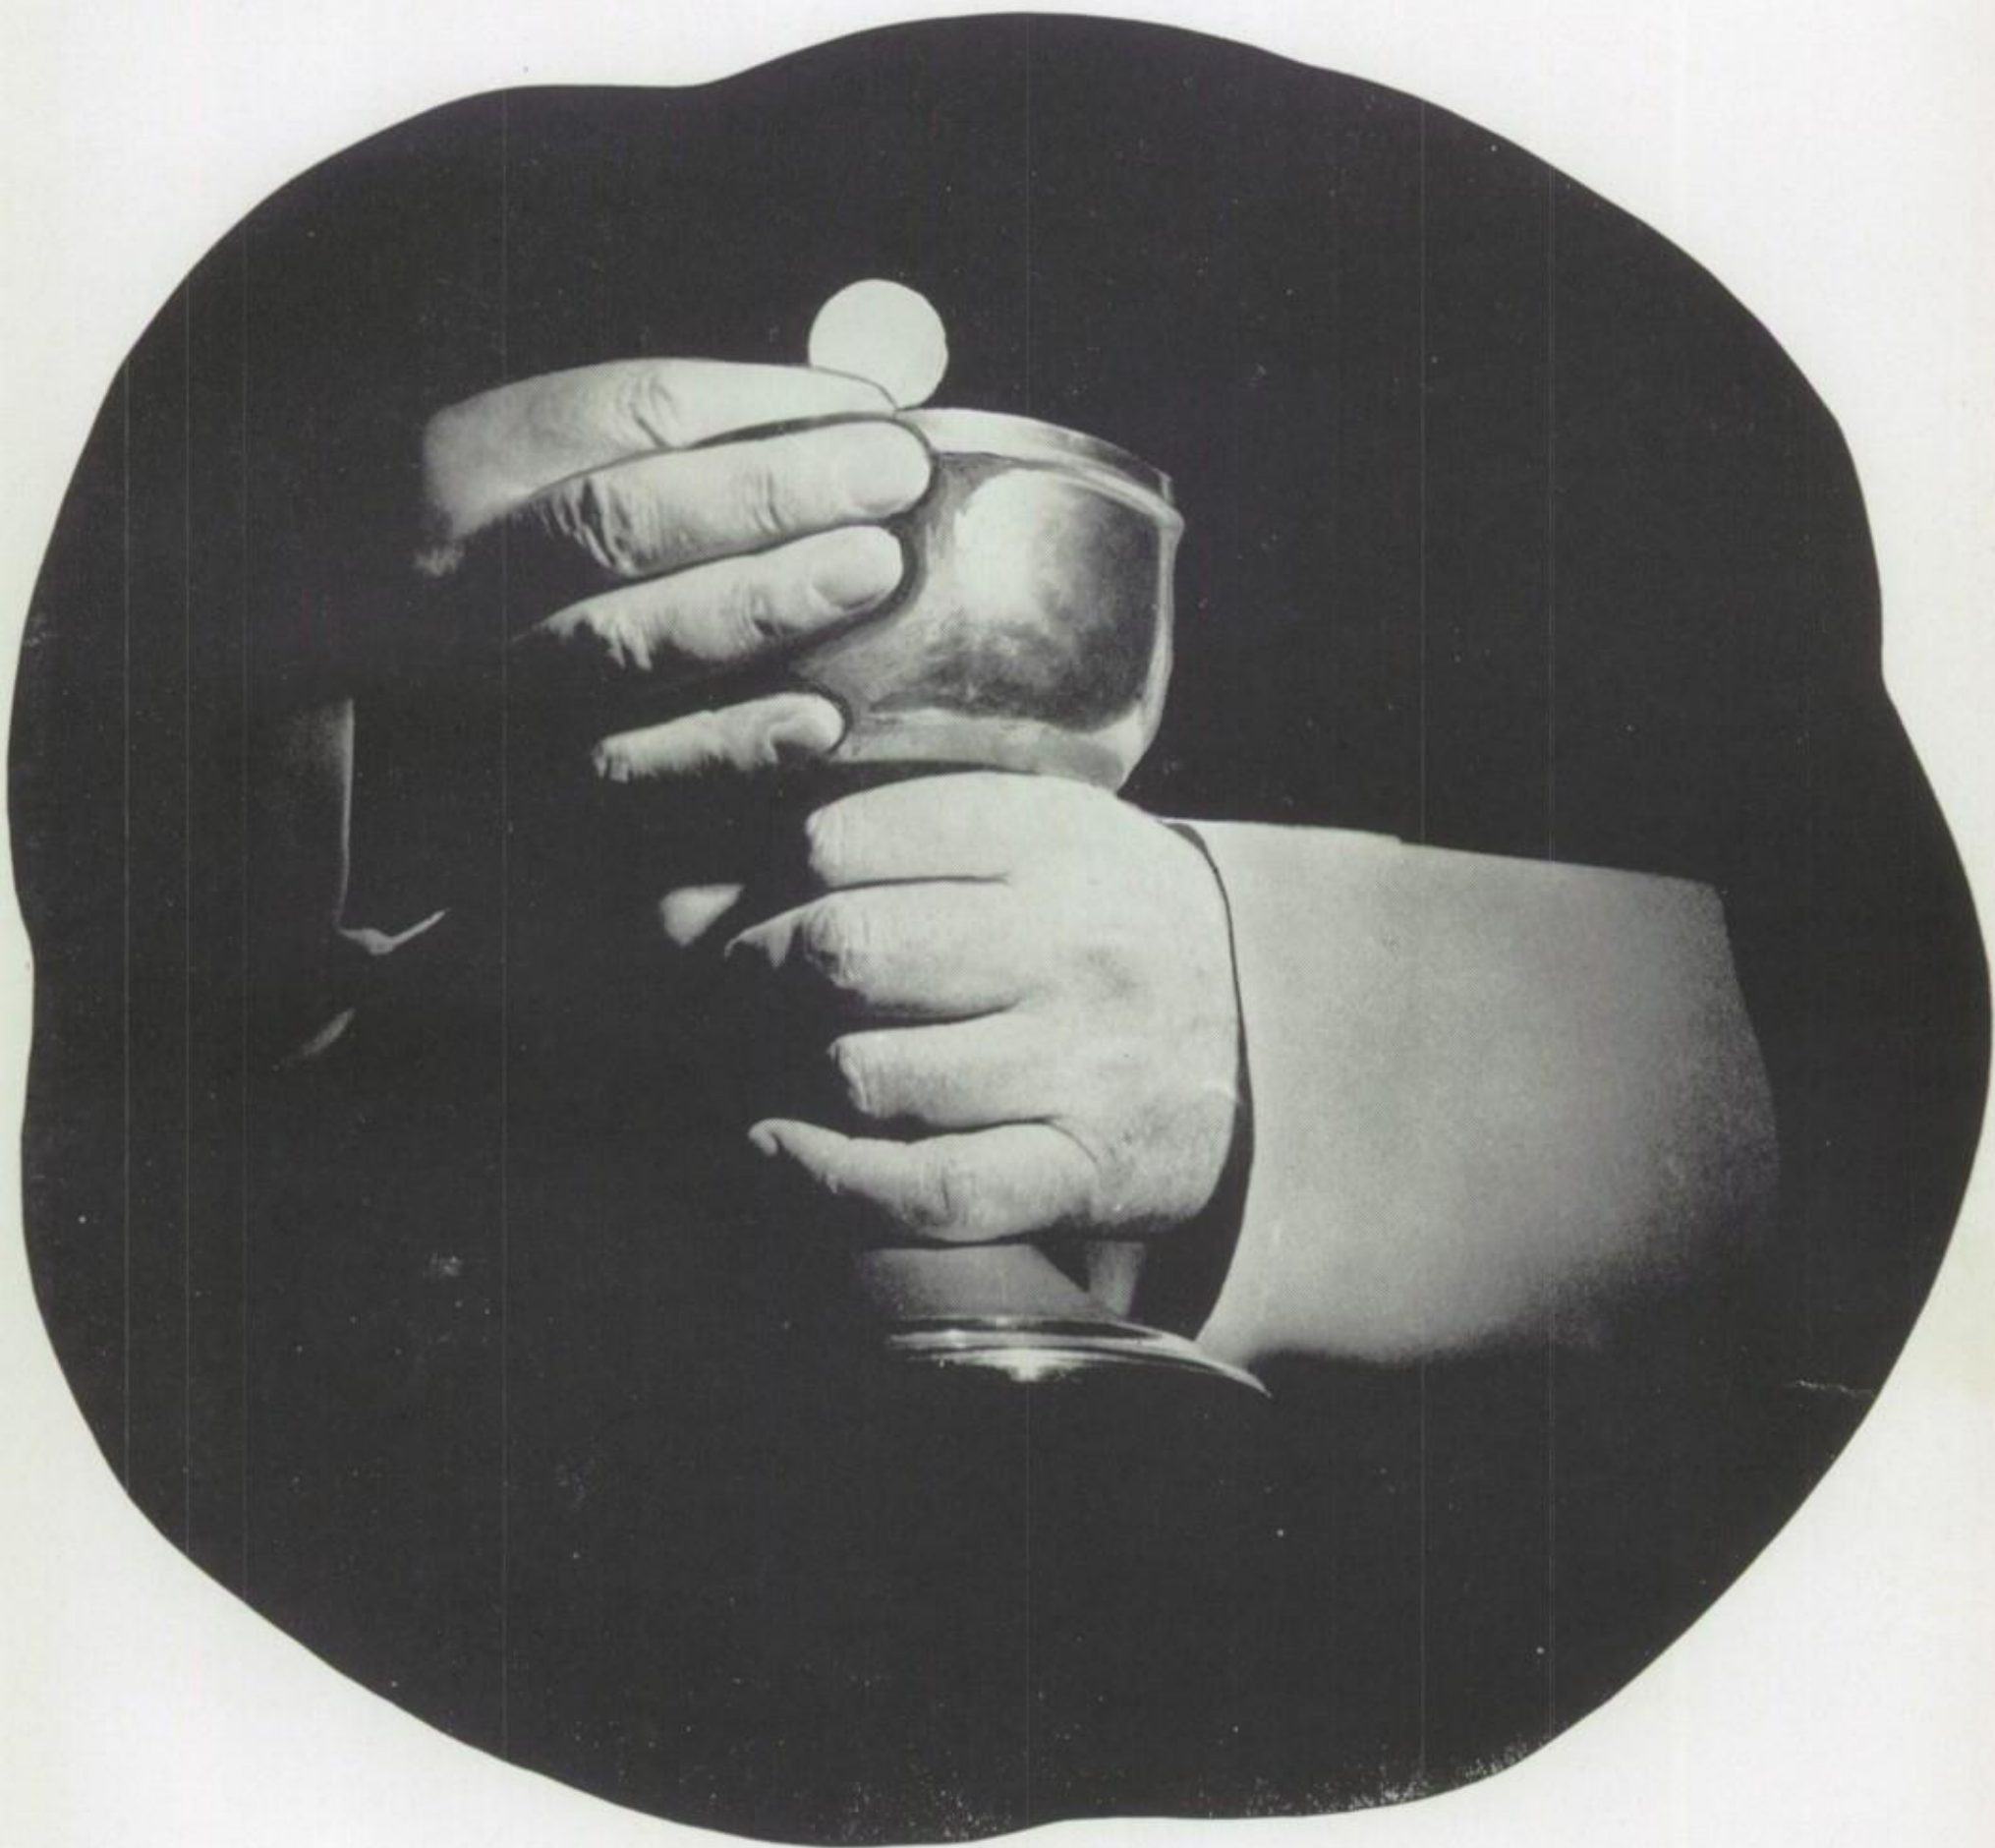

In this 1957 Centripetal we are endeavoring to portray the anointed hands of Monsignor Harrington as they appear in the performance of his sacred duties at Central. Primarily his work is to guide the administration, and therefore his hands extend over every phase of school life.

One of Monsignor's initial obligations, as principal, is the offering of the sacrifice of the Mass daily in the school chapel. His consecrated hands perform one of the greatest acts accorded man—the holding of the Body of Christ.

As principal his sacred hands transfer the keys of the classrooms to the faculty who assist him in the school's administration; these are the hands which raised in benediction on the student body, bless them as they begin the school year; the same sacred hands bestow on the classes the books from which the students glean the education necessary to become good Catholic leaders in the modern world; these hands, extending over every sport in the athletic program, present to the players their letters in recognition of their endeavors; from these hands by the presentation of the symbolic gavel passes all governmental authority bestowed on the presidents of all student organizations.

Verily, during the past twenty of the silver years, the priestly hands of Monsignor Harrington have played an important role in all phases of Central's life.

Twenty-five Years

As sacred as the pyx are ye,
Oh happy hands—an angel's fee!
They clasp the Lord of Majesty!

Dedication

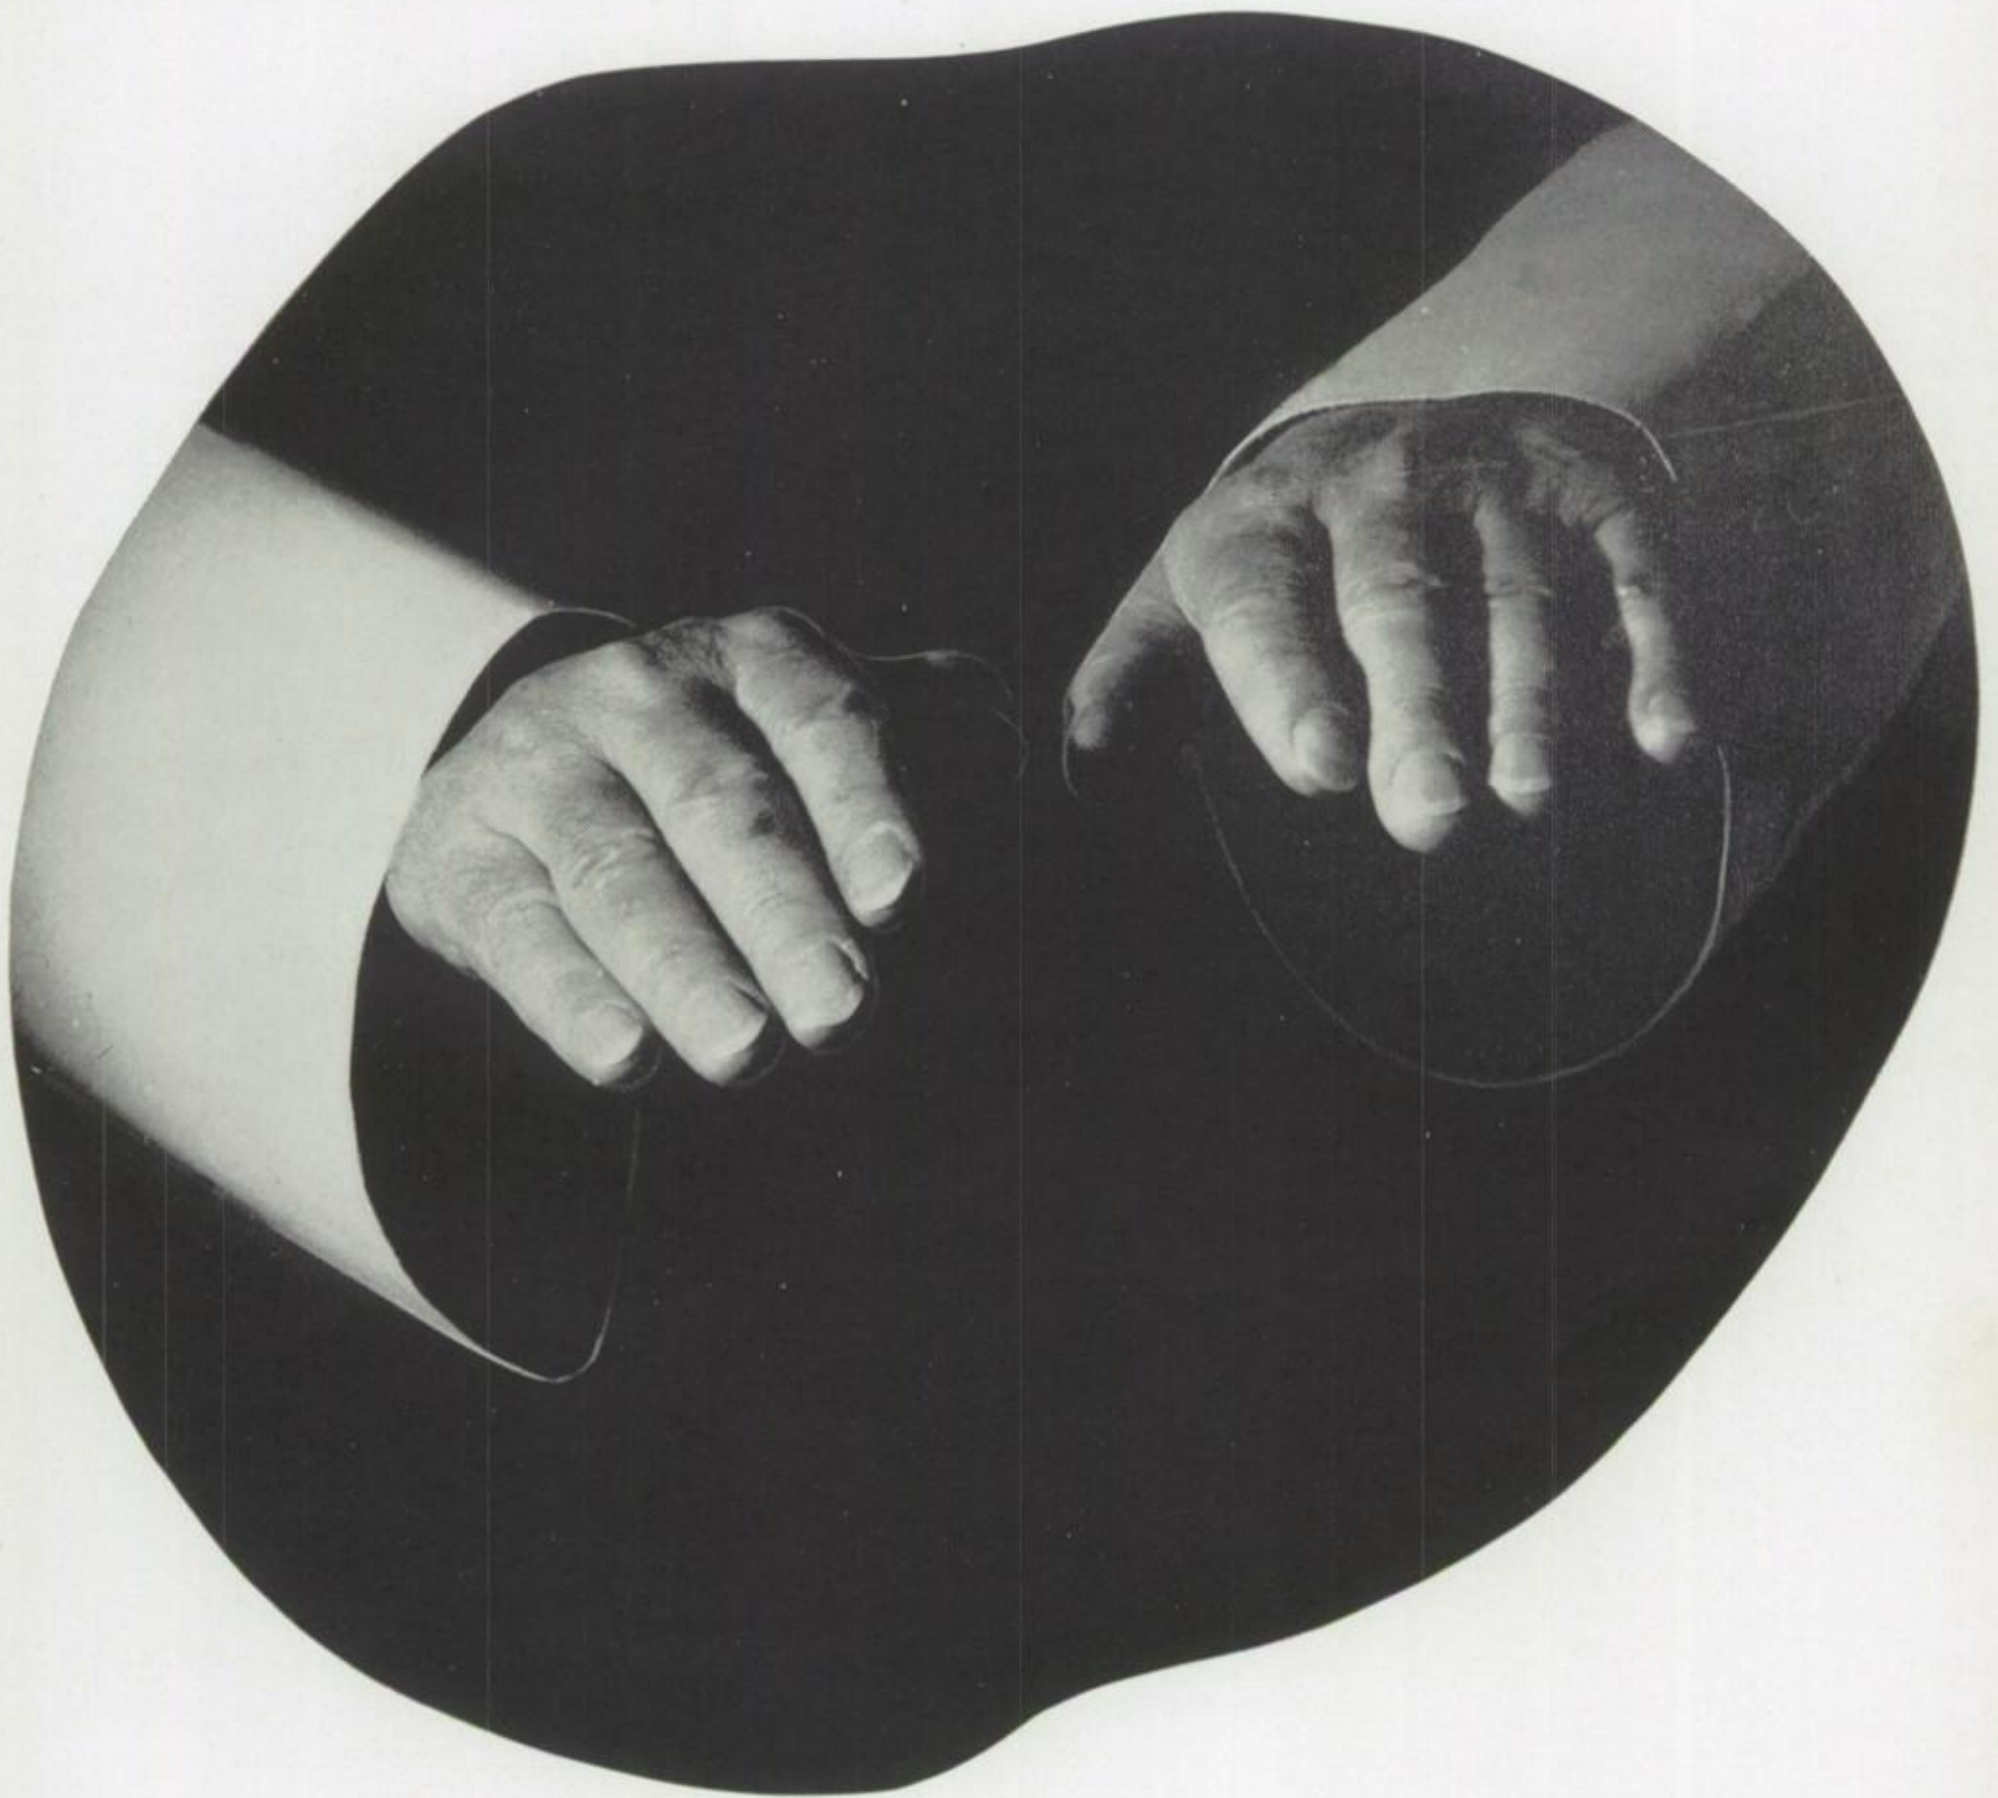

Twenty-five years ago—May 21, 1932—Monsignor J. L. Harrington was ordained a priest at which ceremony the bishop bestowed upon his hands, by anointing them, a power which will reside in them forever.

Twenty of these years, four of which were spent as assistant principal, Monsignor's priestly hands have directed Central in all its undertakings and have guided its students toward their chosen careers. Four years ago these same hands welcomed us to Central as freshmen and have since continued to applaud us in our many achievements and steer us through our difficulties.

These anointed hands, from whose consecrated fingers we have received the Bread of Life, have molded our characters upon the Model bequeathed us by Christ. These sacred hands by pointing out to us the true Christian principles which must govern our lives, at all times, have indicated the definite standards that lead to eternal life.

In sincere gratitude for their twenty years of service to the students of Central we, the class of 1957, dedicate this, the 1957 Centripetal to the anointed hands of Monsignor J. L. Harrington.

The Anointed Hands

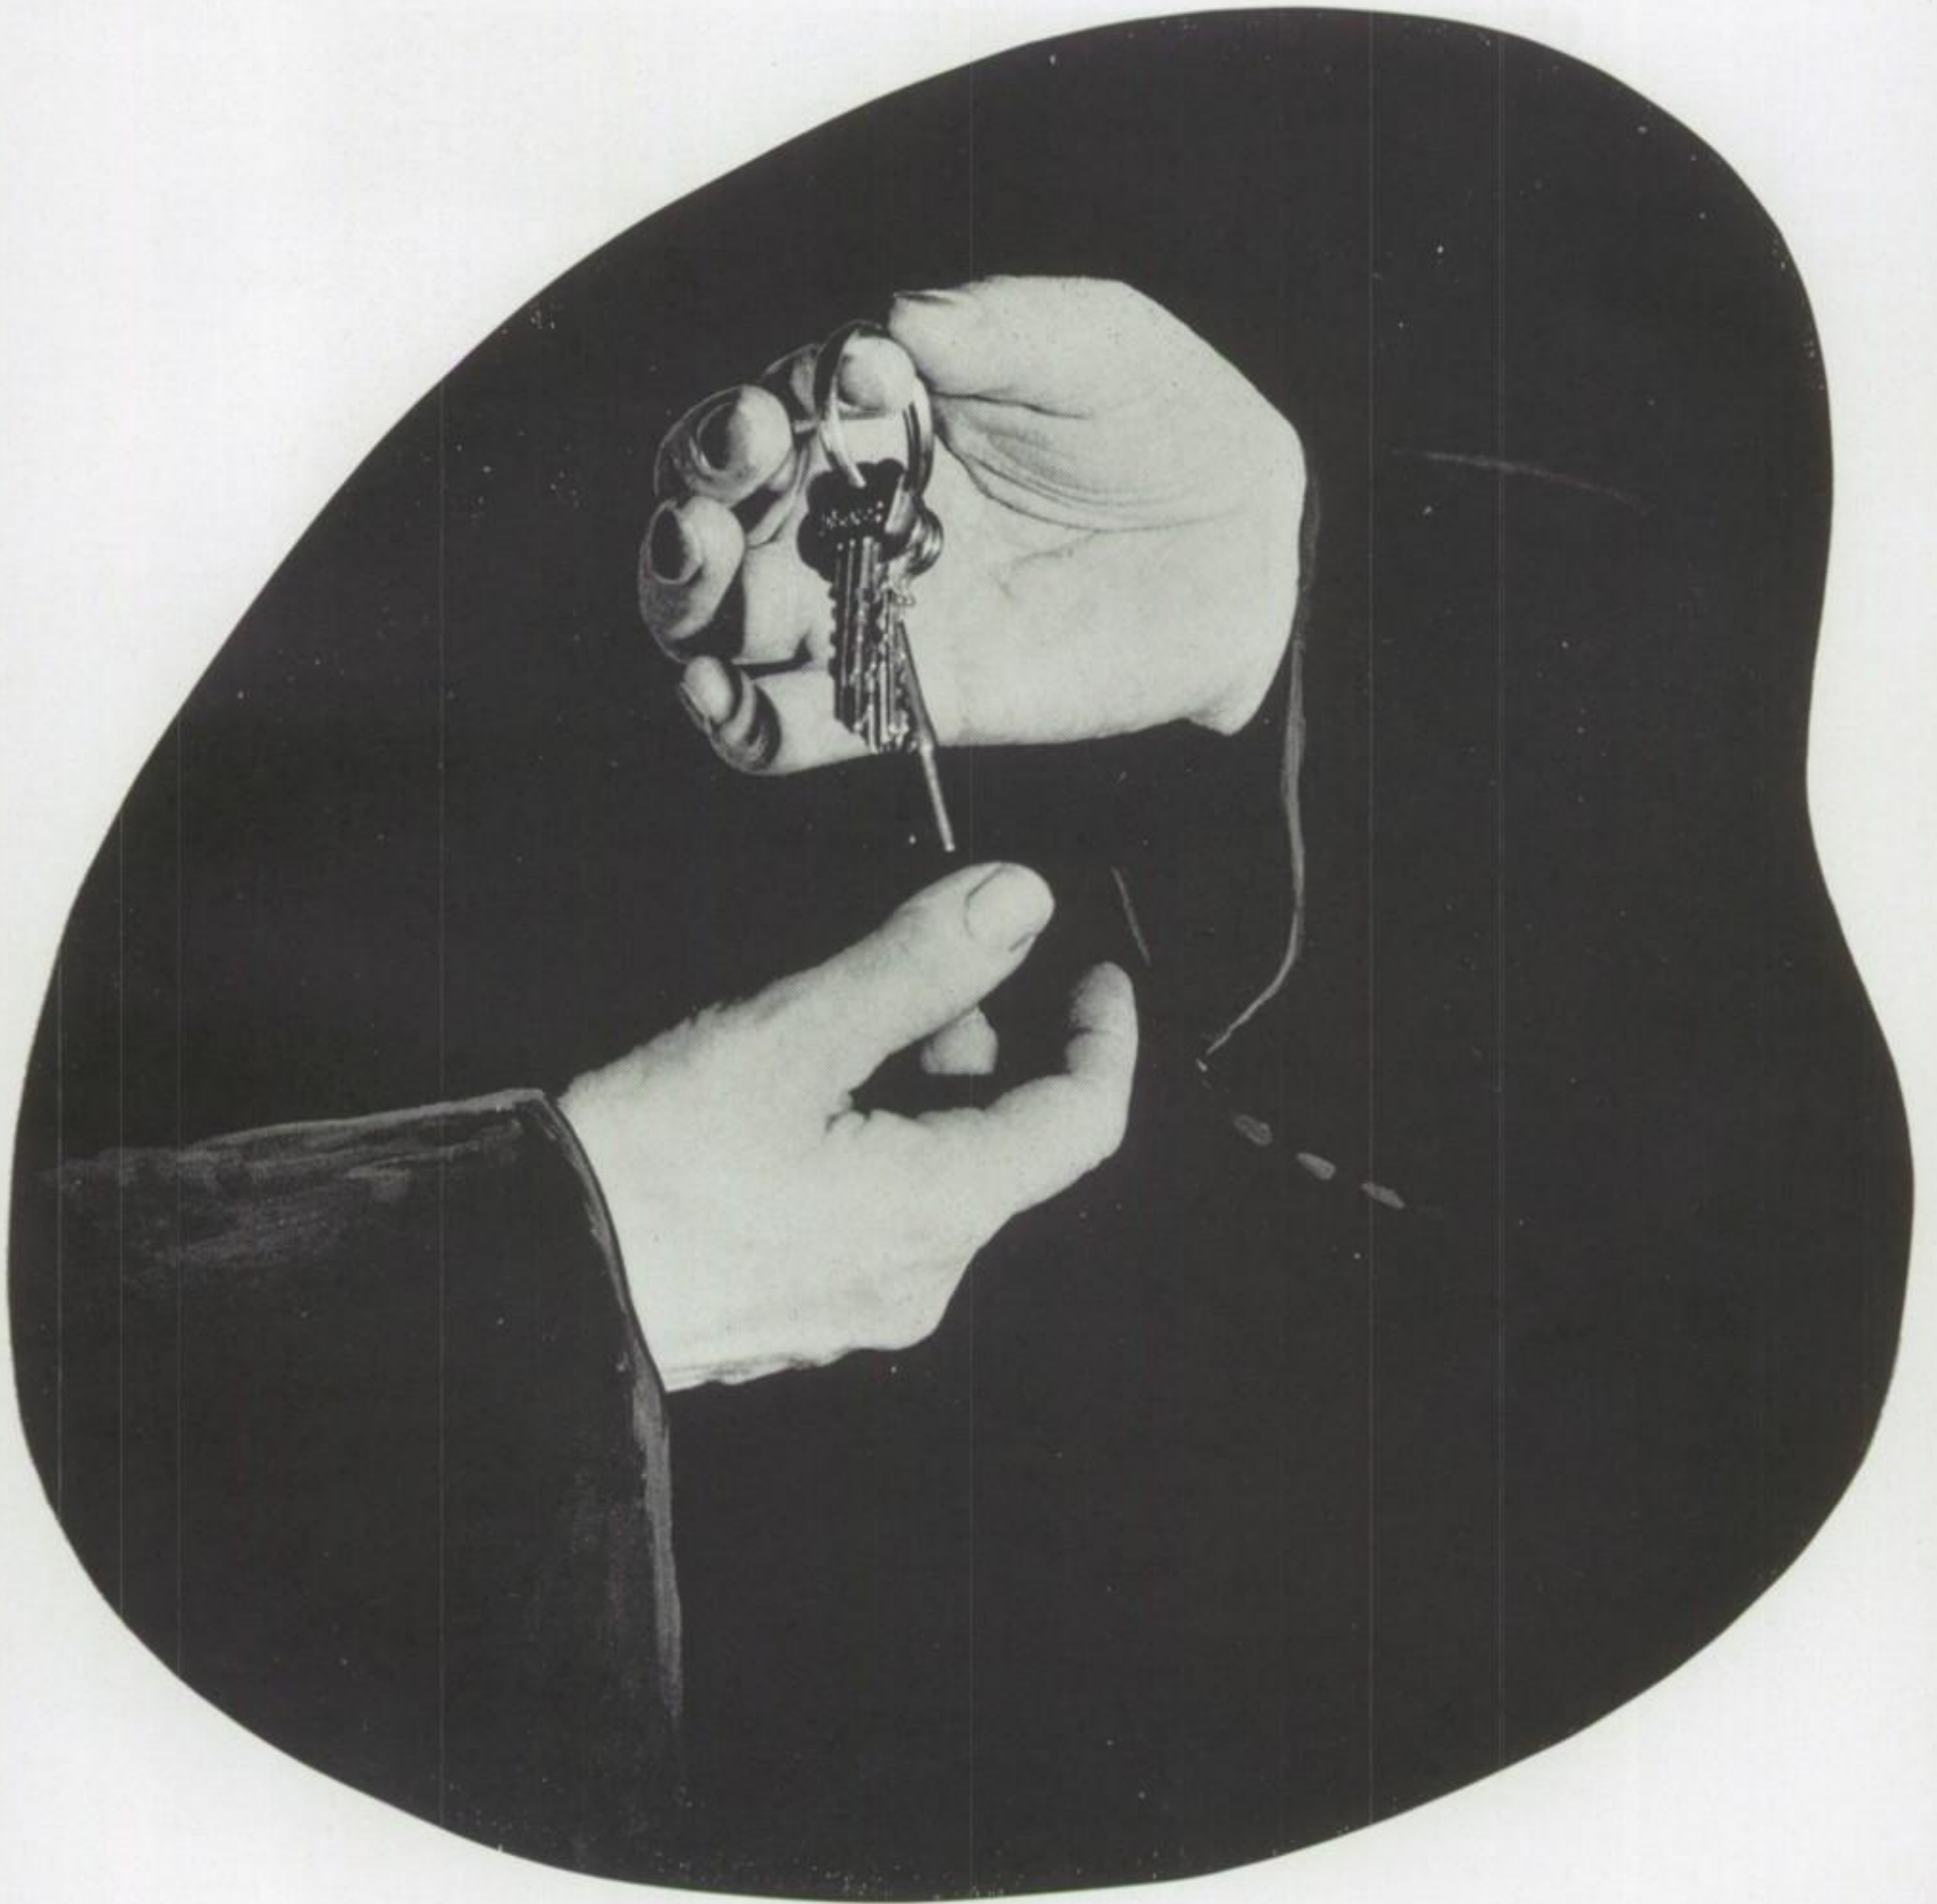

His hands were filled and consecrated.

Salutatorian

Robert Huss

Dear Alma Mater:

As we, the graduating class of 1957, look back on the four years we have spent here, we cannot suppress the wistful feeling which inevitably affects us.

You have been to us a home, a guide, and a great part of our lives. When we entered your portals four brief years ago we were struck with an awesome feeling. Your walls seemed so high and distant and your hallways cold and looming. In the ensuing four years these same walls and hallways have become a part of our very lives. You willingly accepted us into your fold and your dedicated faculty gave us all the assistance they possible could. As a result we leave your doors older and wiser.

We bid farewell to you, our beloved school, and to your faculty which has done so much to develop us spiritually, mentally, and physically, and to every individual on your staff who has contributed in any way to make our years here at Central more pleasant. We leave you for the last time as students with not just any type of an education, but one which is based on good Catholic principles—a Catholic education.

Barbara Rokicki, treasurer. Mary Duwve, corresponding secretary. Robert Huss, vice-president.
Martin Grosjean, secretary. Robert Stearns, president.

Visitor from Patna

The hour, assembly time; the place, the auditorium stage of Central Catholic High School; the scene, the wilds of Patna, India; the witnesses, the faculty members and Centralites. Slowly, the magician, in the personage of Jesuit missionary, Father Liska, opens his "vanity case", his assistants step forward, there are a few moments of expectant, amused silence, then shrieks of amazement as Nurmala and Punjab emerge —no longer Centralites, but Indians.

Abacadbra chants Rev. Robert Liska over his "vanity case" as Ed Wagner and Linda Veigel, alias Nurmala and Punjab, emerge in all their Indian splendor.

Nurse's Room

In room 224 a registered nurse is continually on hand to administer aid to the student's ailments. This room resembles a tiny hospital prepared to take care of any emergency that may arise. It is under the direction of Sr. Mary Aloysius R.S.M. who also supervises the annual medical check-up of the freshmen.

Attendance Office

The room in which almost every student sooner or later steps into during his four years is the Attendance Office.

This office enables the teachers to know whether a student is excused, not excused or tardy, by the pink, blue, or white slips which are distributed.

Besides this tedious task, the office keeps an accurate record of all tardiness and absenteeism, in addition to checking and verifying penalty attendance.

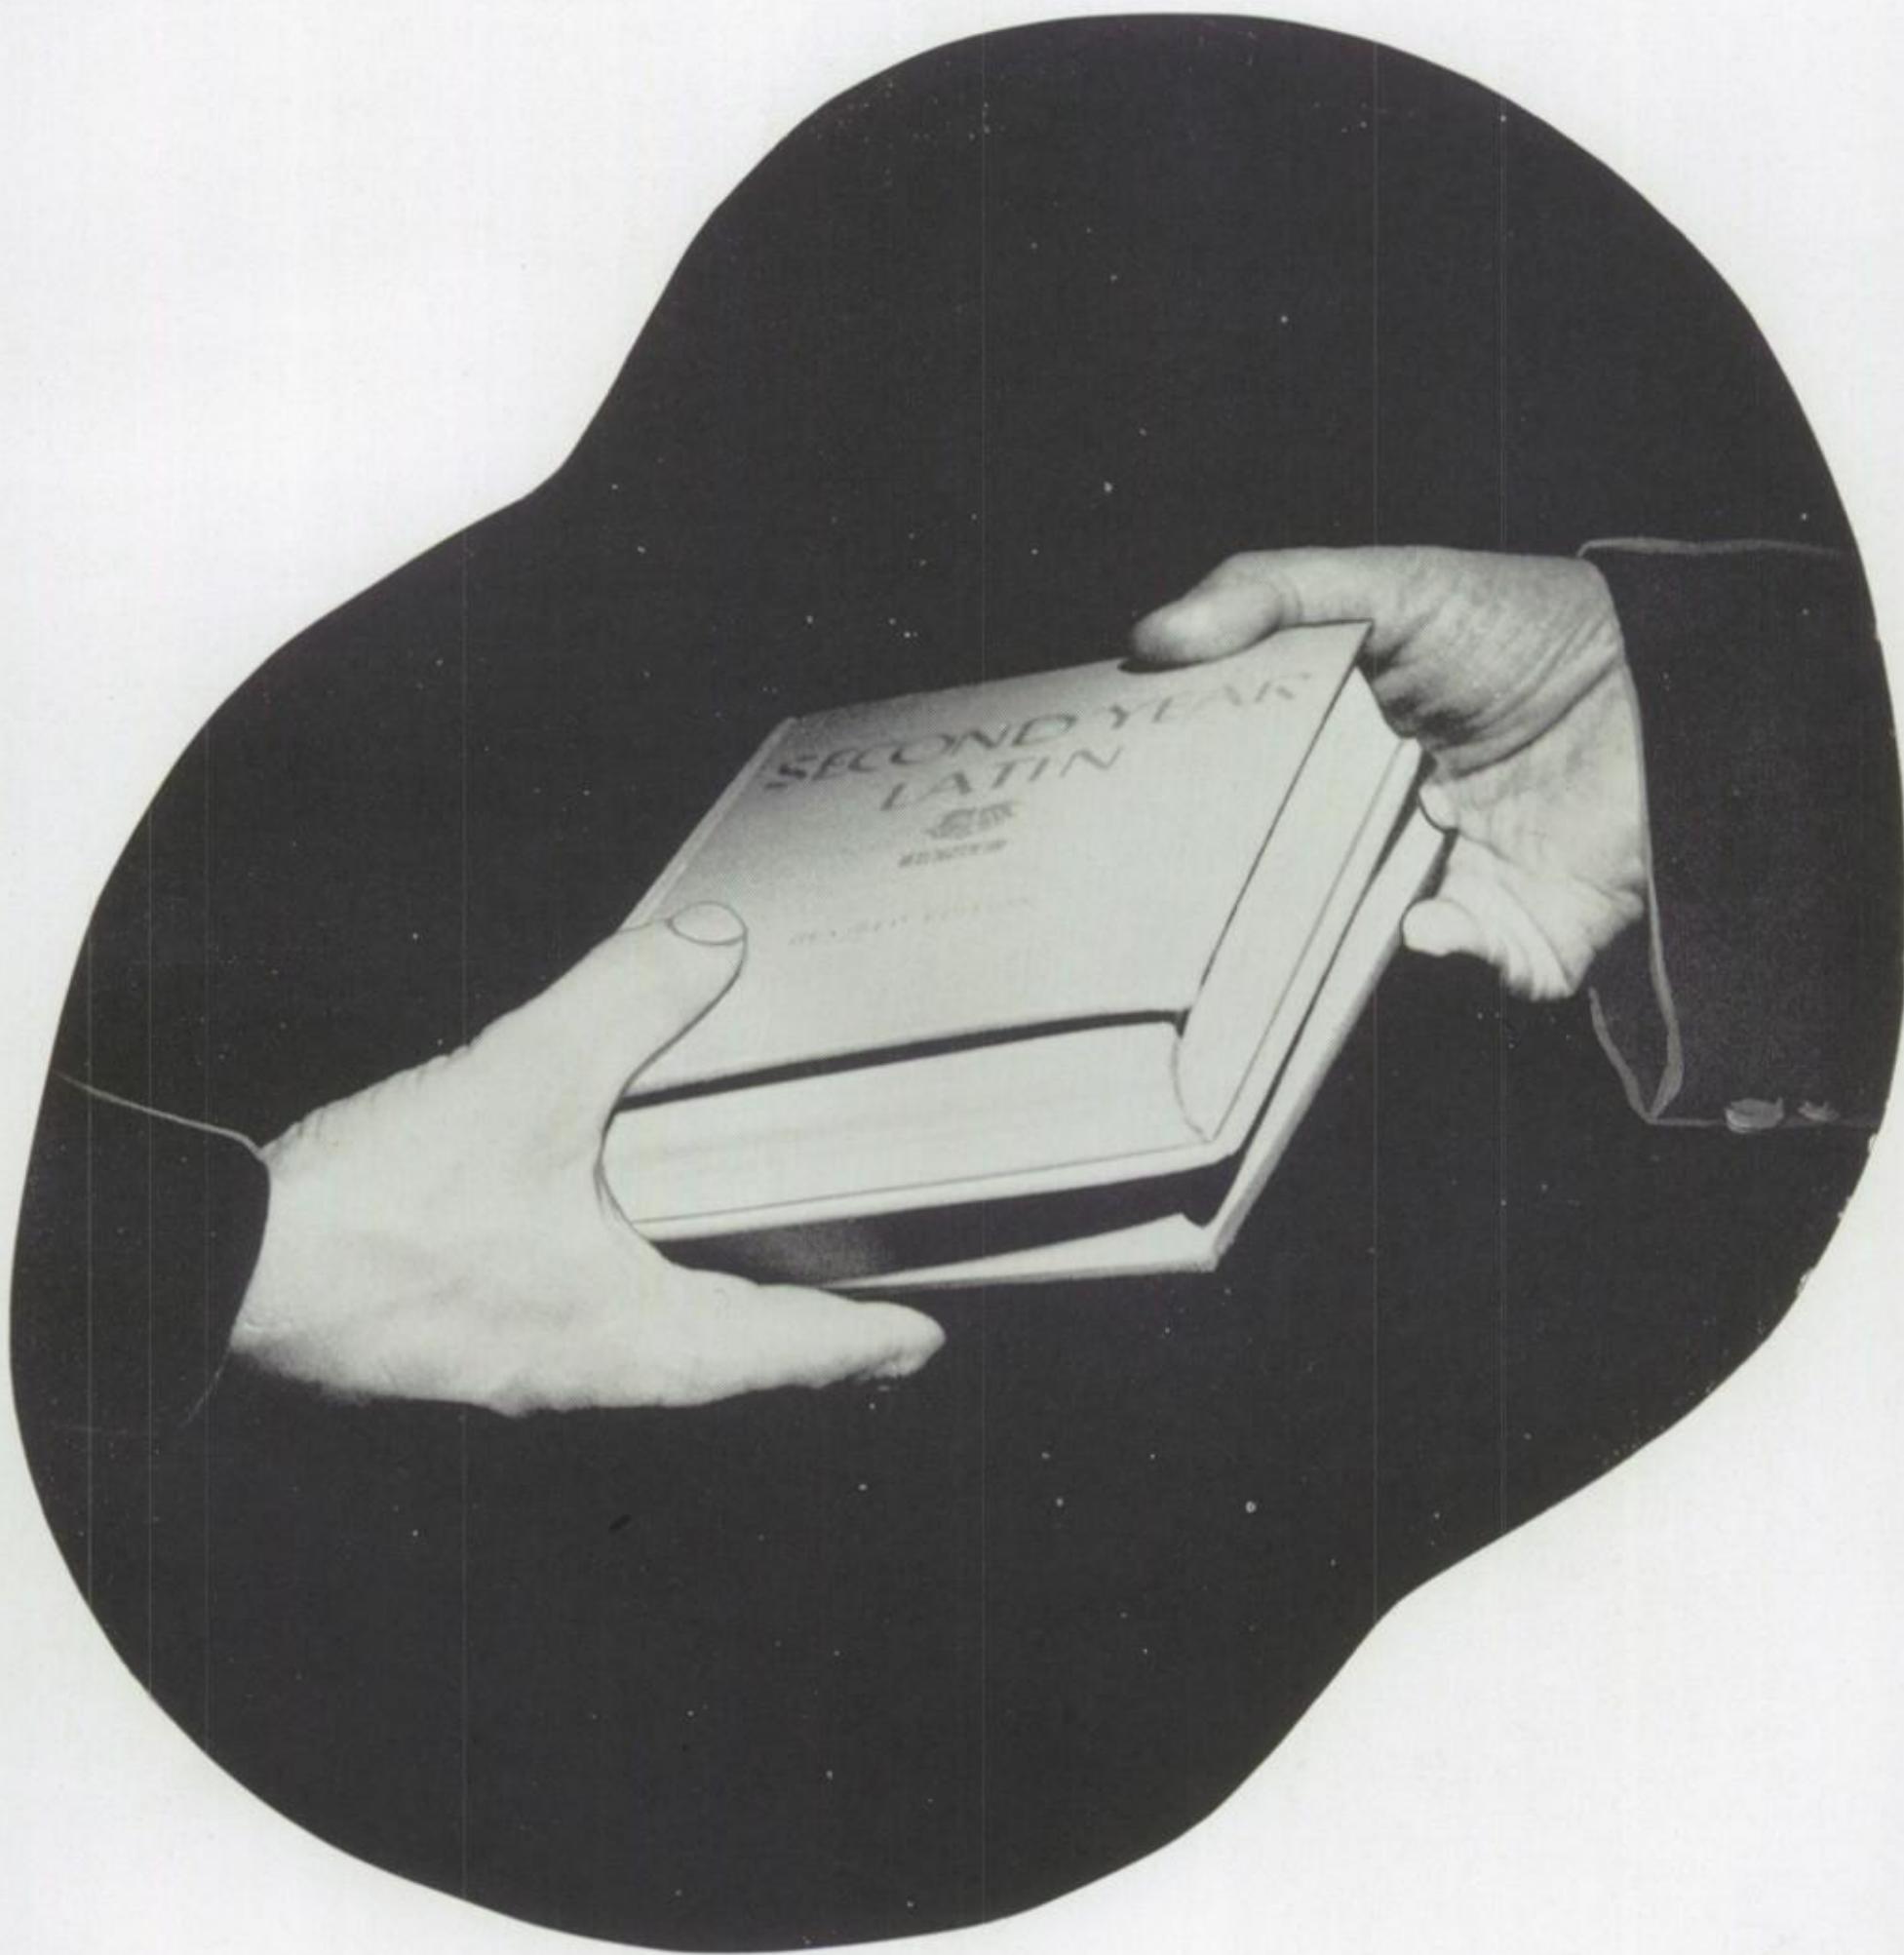

Sr. Mary Aloysius RSM checks Sue Osborne's pulse.

Sr. Mary Loretta OSF looks doubtful as Jack Muenzer pleads innocent.

Classes

His hands bestow the tools of knowledge.

Religion

Religion must always be an intricate part of man's life. World conditions point to this fact probably more than ever before. In measuring a country's defense by its military strength, one is apt to forget the most important defense, that is, religion.

Students study religion during their four years at Central to receive a firm foundation in their faith in order that they will be able to apply Christian principles to their daily lives.

As freshmen they concentrate on the deeds of love attributed to God the Father. During the sophomore year they learn how Jesus Christ obtained for them the opportunity and the means for salvation. The workings of the Holy Ghost in the Church and in souls are studied in the third year. Seniors receive instruction regarding their vocation in life, that is, the religious life, the married state, or the single life.

1. Fr. Terence eyes the work of Pat Mayberry.
2. Junior boys hard at work?
3. Is that a test, boys?

4. H. Lewandowski, E. Lonsway, B. Pacewicz, and J. Graham discuss symbols of the Trinity.

Retreat

At Central, students consider retreat their most important spiritual privilege. A Centralite may gain unlimited graces by taking advantage of the opportunities for spiritual advancement offered him during these three days.

Rev. F. Wilson, SJ and Rev. M. Lochbiler, SJ conducted the students in this year's retreat.

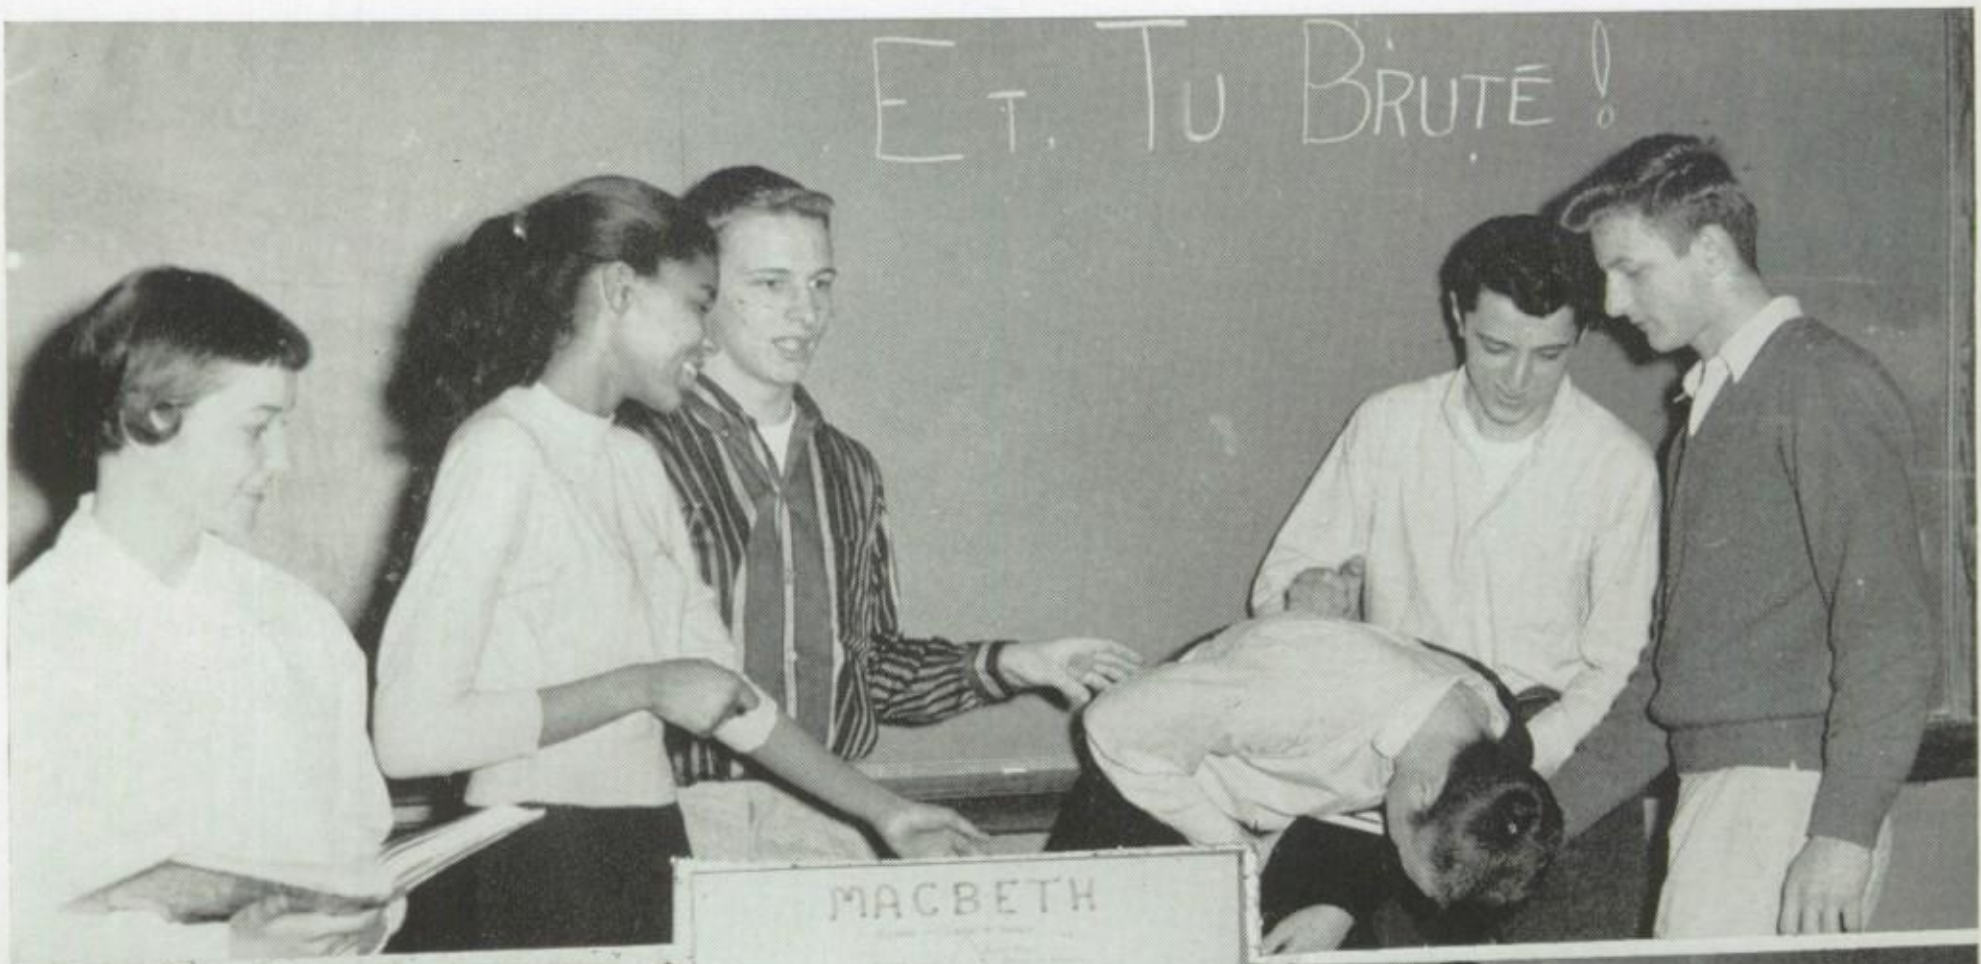

Rev. F. Wilson, SJ

Rev. M. Lochbiler, SJ

1. The girls start Retreat with Mass in the Chapel.
2. Mass for the boys is being celebrated in the gym.

1. Sophomores portray the slaying of Caesar.

2. S. Seidl, F. Krysztofiak, B. Rybka, and K. Katafiasz study the climax of Macbeth.

English

Thoughts are expressed and recorded, for the most part, in the English language. Yet, so often, it is a subject that is simply taken for granted. So basic and important is the knowledge and working use of English that it is a compulsory subject in the school's curriculum.

In the freshman and sophomore years courses in grammar and literature are offered, during which time grammatical usage is stressed. American literature is the basic study of the junior year. One of the main events in this year is the Junior Research Essay. The seniors have their choice of English literature, English composition, journalism, and public speaking.

The chief aims of English are to train the students to appreciate classical literature and to enable them to handle the language more effectively and fluently.

Public Speaking

Senior students are able to develop and increase their ability to communicate with the world through this one semester course. Practice improves such speech errors as mispronunciation, voice inflexibility, poor articulation, and ineffective or defective sentence structure when speaking. Ability is also developed in giving effective and informative speeches so that one may adequately convey his ideas to others. By using panel discussions, demonstrations, and tape recordings, the students are trained in the manners of speaking so that others may easily hear them and understand their subjects.

1. A touch of tuning by Don Noble.
2. Sue Camp . . . forthcoming orator?

3. Tom Tafelski records Mary Duwve's voice.

French

The Centralite who chooses French as part of his education will become familiar with the carefree, funloving people of a romantic, adventurous country.

French inspires in the student an interest to learn more about the people and their customs through literature, songs, and folklore.

Having acquired this knowledge the student is more confident if he travels abroad or delves into foreign literature. An appreciation of the contributions of the French to our civilization will broaden a student's viewpoint.

1. Barbara Long is framed by the outline of France.

2. All attention is focused on Karl Bates.

Spanish

Spanish, one of the most enjoyable languages in a Centralite's curriculum, offers the student an excellent opportunity to obtain a broader knowledge of one of the most colorful nations in the world. This is achieved through a detailed study of its customs and history. The student learns the influence which Spain had in the formation of this country.

This course also gives the students a chance to learn more about their friends to the South, the Latin-American countries.

Knowledge of a certain country and its people is a key factor in the diplomatic relationship between two countries.

1. Phil Barret and Margaret Virog compare notes.

2. Third year students admire Our Lady of Guadalupe.

German

To be able to understand and speak the different languages of the world today, is considered by many a great accomplishment.

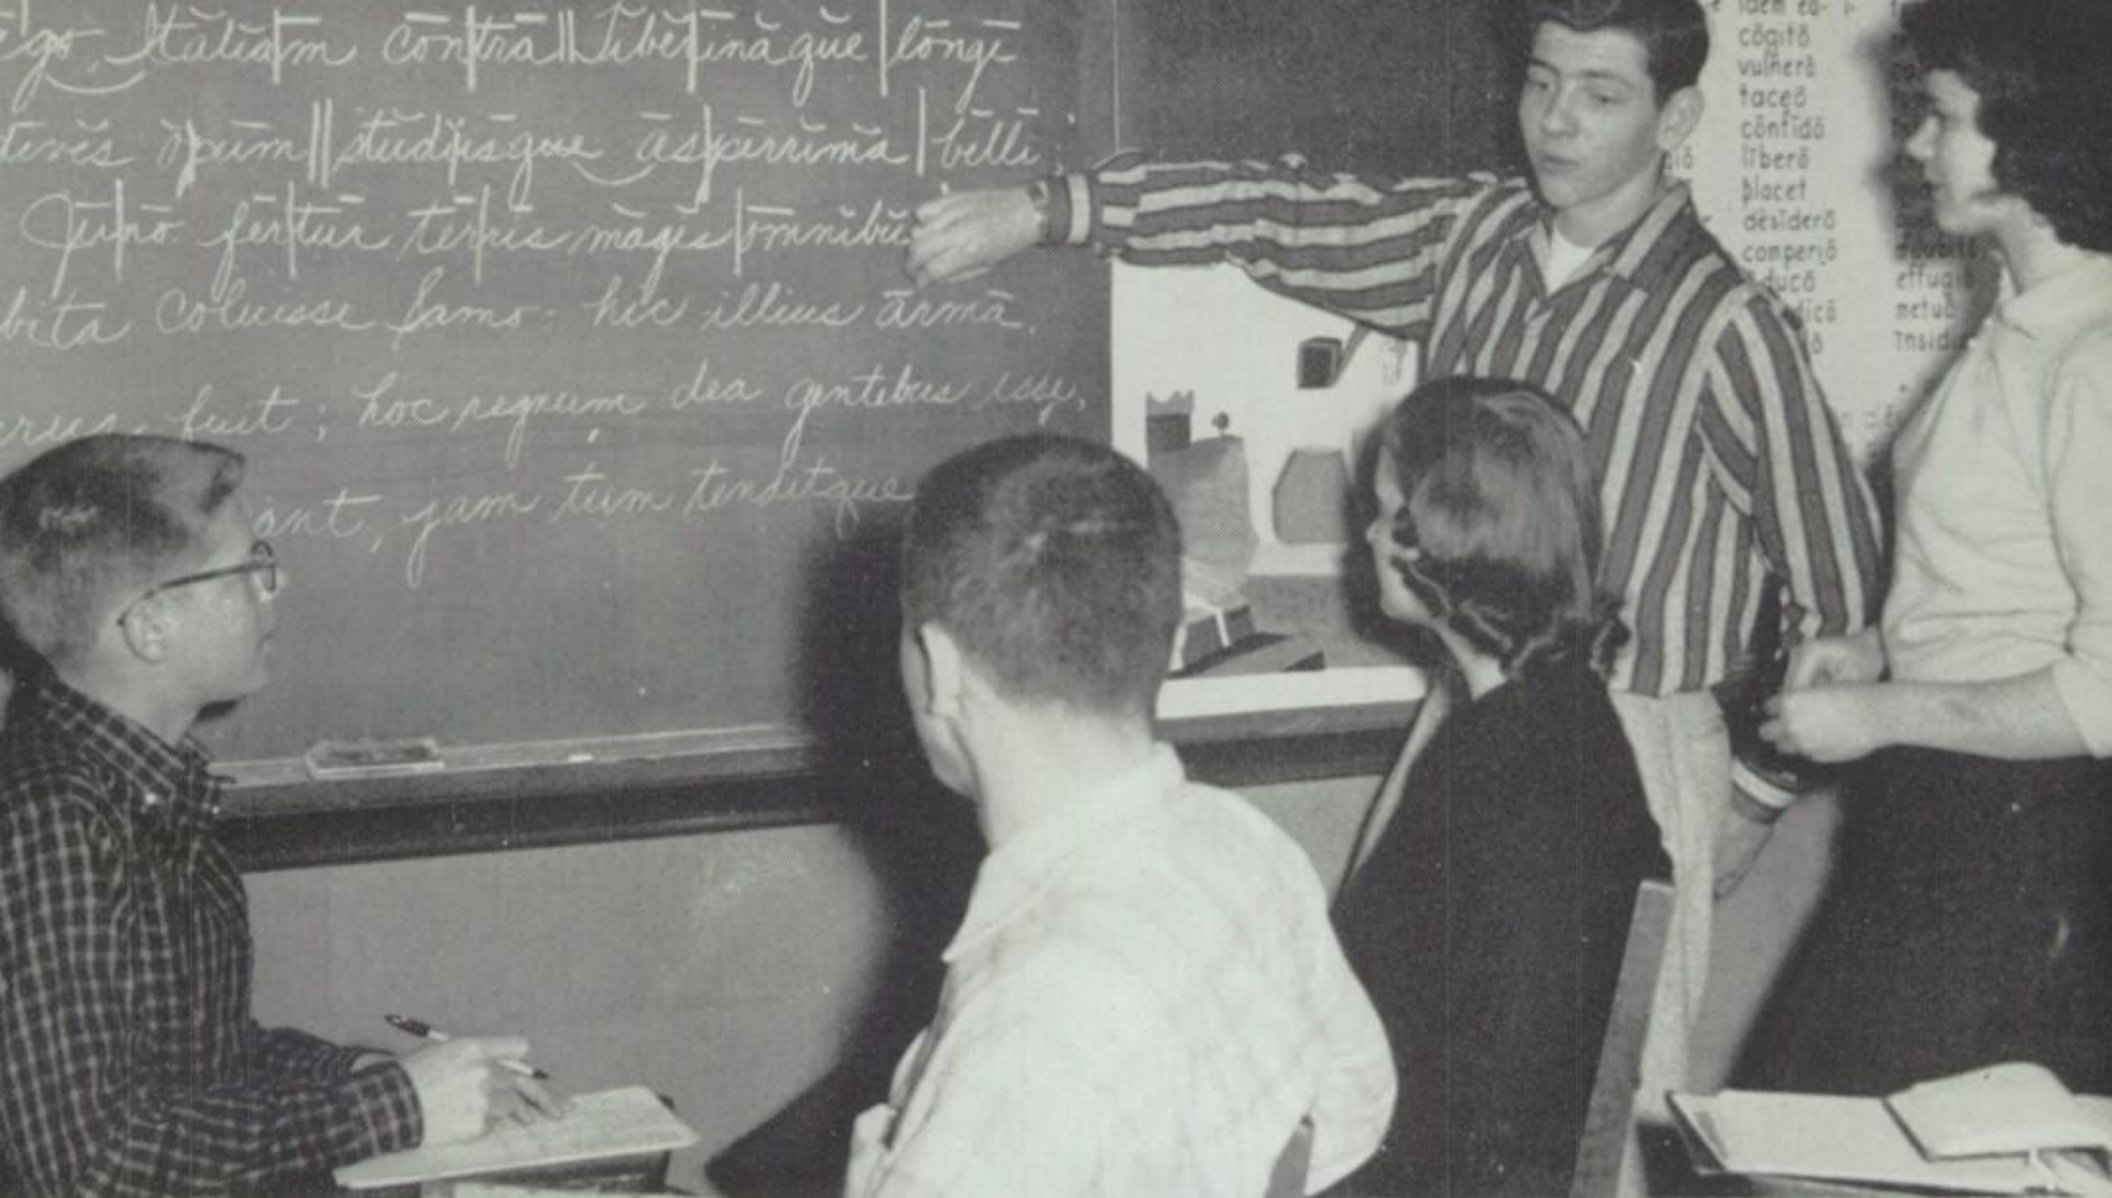

Perhaps one of the most fascinating languages is that of the German people. Germany is a place of historical interest, large industries and numerous resources. Students who undertake the learning of German, understand and appreciate the lives and habits of these Teutonic peoples.

Central Catholic offers a two year course in this language. The first year students learn the basic rules, vocabulary, and pronunciation. During the second year they acquire a better understanding of the language, and through the perusal of current German magazines, which has become a hobby with the students, they become familiar with the industrial, social, and political trends of present-day Germany.

1. Bob Babione and Charles Ritter listen attentively to Jerry Danaher.

2. New German teacher, Rosalie Carr, instructs her class.

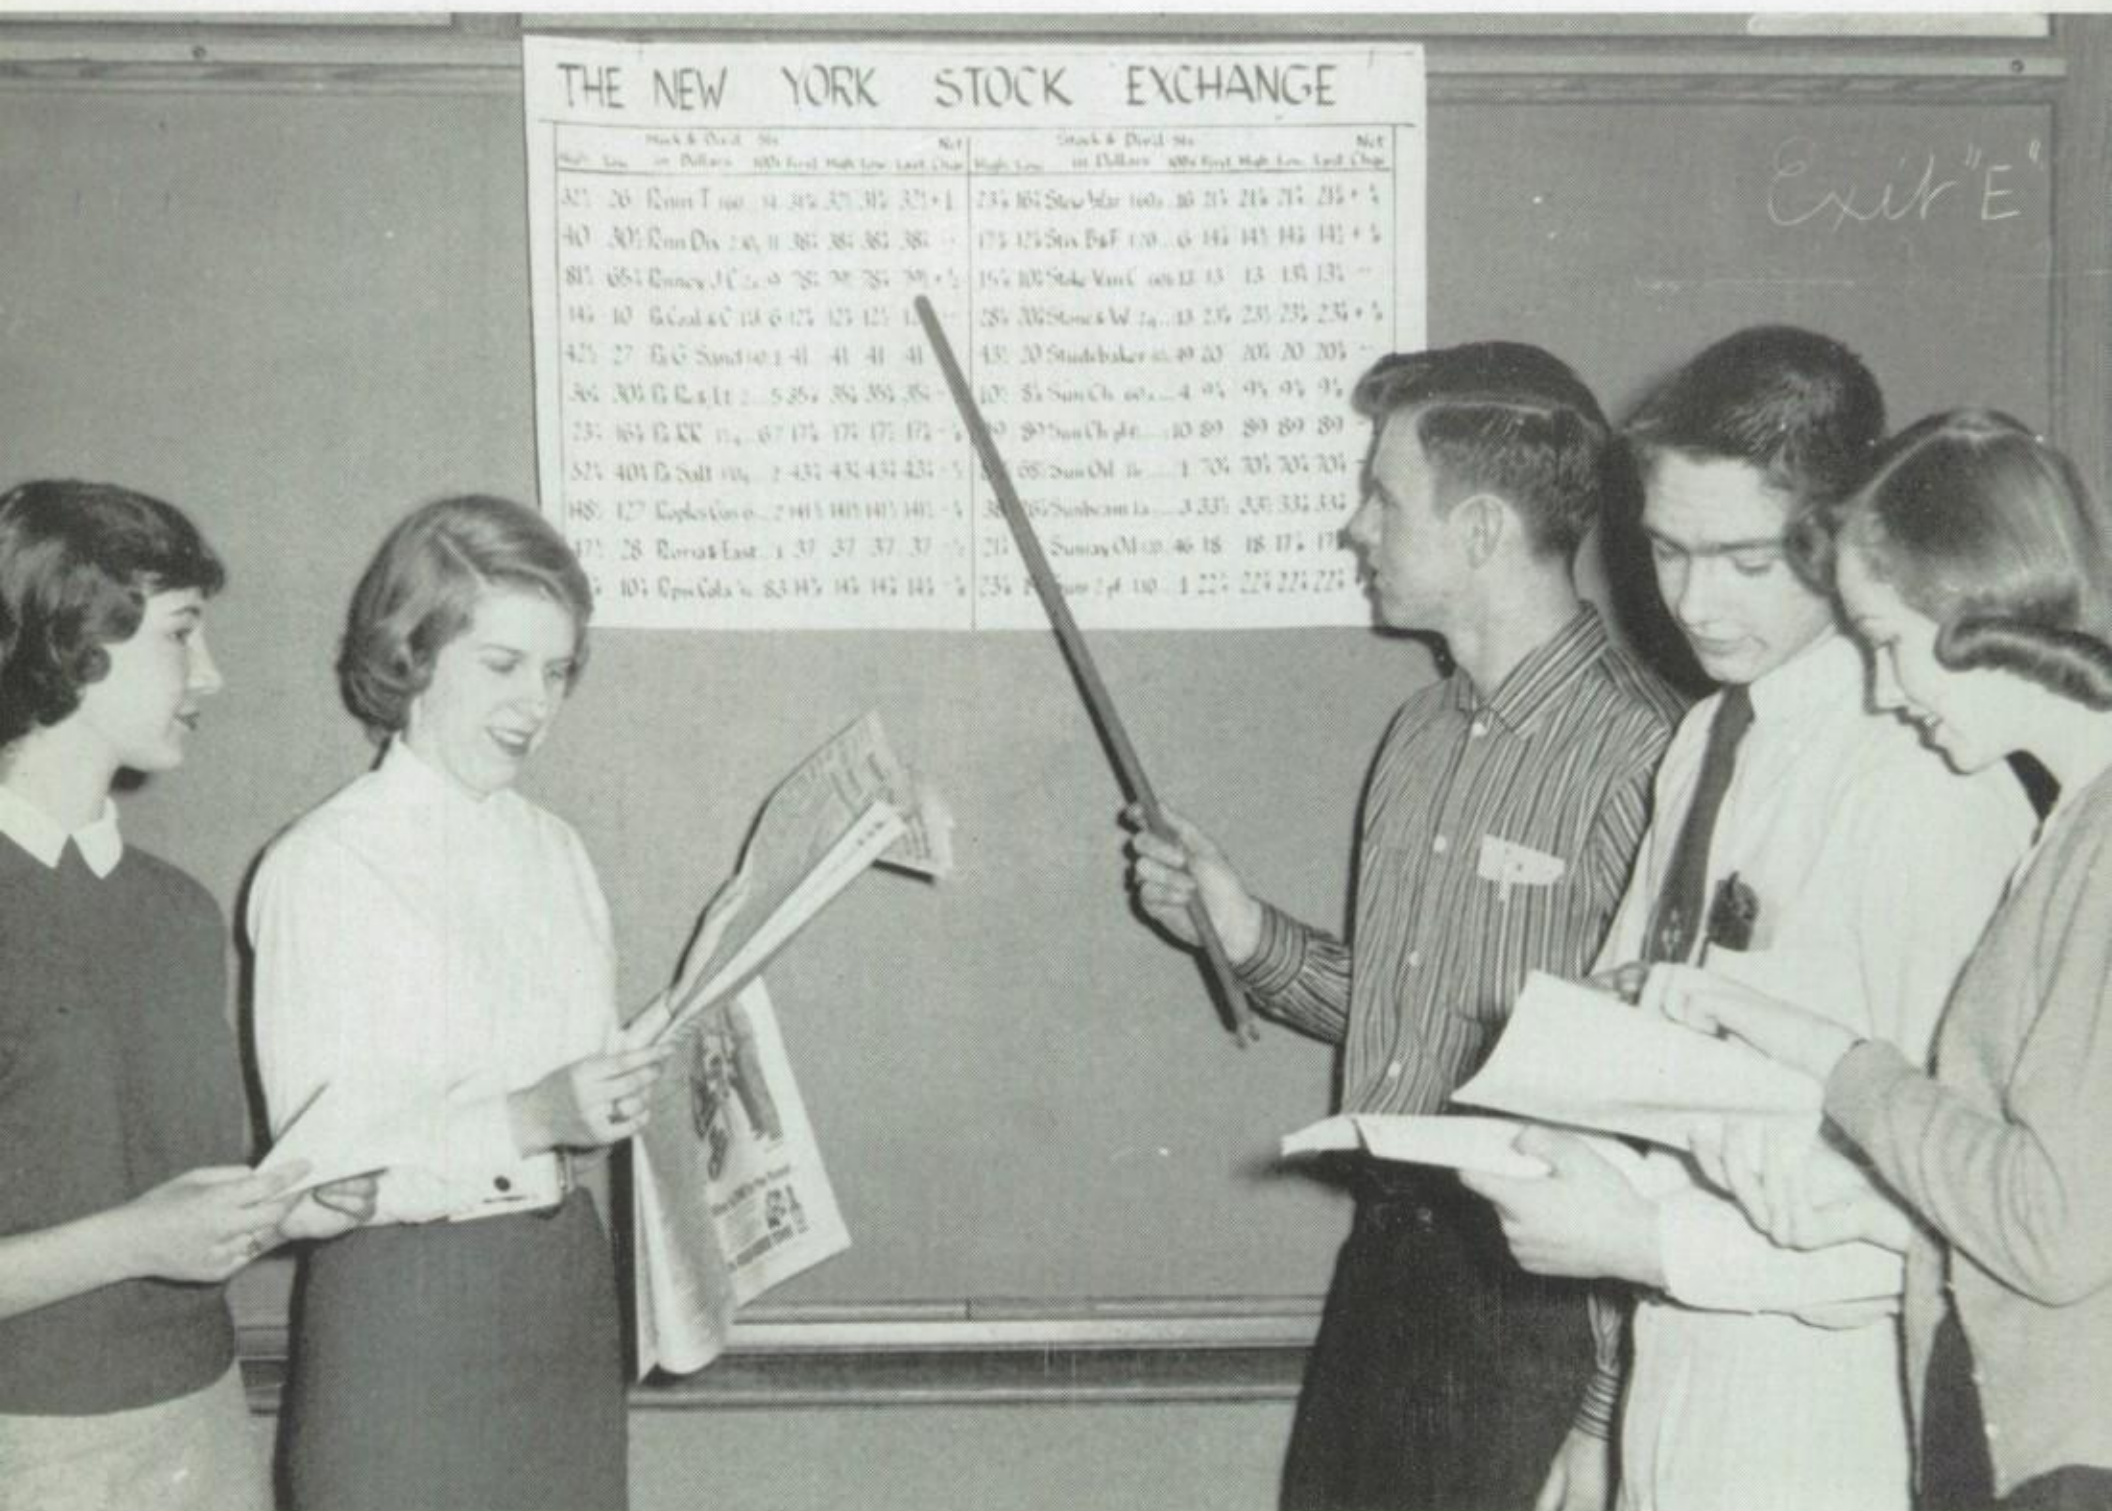

Latin

Latin, the mother of the Romance languages, is offered in the traditional four year course. In the first year, freshmen are offered the basic concepts of a totally different language. Sophomores continue their skill in an intensive linguistic study as applied in Caesar's Gallic Wars, while the juniors delve into the classic works of Cicero's Orations and selections from Christian Latin. Seniors, besides attempting the Latin master Virgil, and translating parts of the Bible, learn to hold short conversations in Latin.

Latin plays a very important part in the training of priests. A priest must know a great deal of Latin for he must not only understand the Mass and his Office, but in the major seminary a number of theology books are in Latin; and furthermore, some professors teach in Latin to avoid a misinterpretation of the English words.

1. J. Schmitt, J. Condon, S. Camp, B. LaVigne, and C. Zarnoch scan poetry of Aeneid.
2. Robert Nicholson pledges allegiance in Latin.

1. K. Katafiasz, C. McLoughlin, D. Nicholas, J. Balusik, and J. Cooper examine stock reports.

Government

Government is the study of our local, state, and federal governments; how they operate, and how they had their beginning.

Sociology

Sociology is the study of our society; what makes it work, the study of group behavior, and the problem created by those who break the rules set down by society.

Economics

Economics is generally defined as the science which treats of the laws of wealth production, exchange, distribution, and consumption.

History

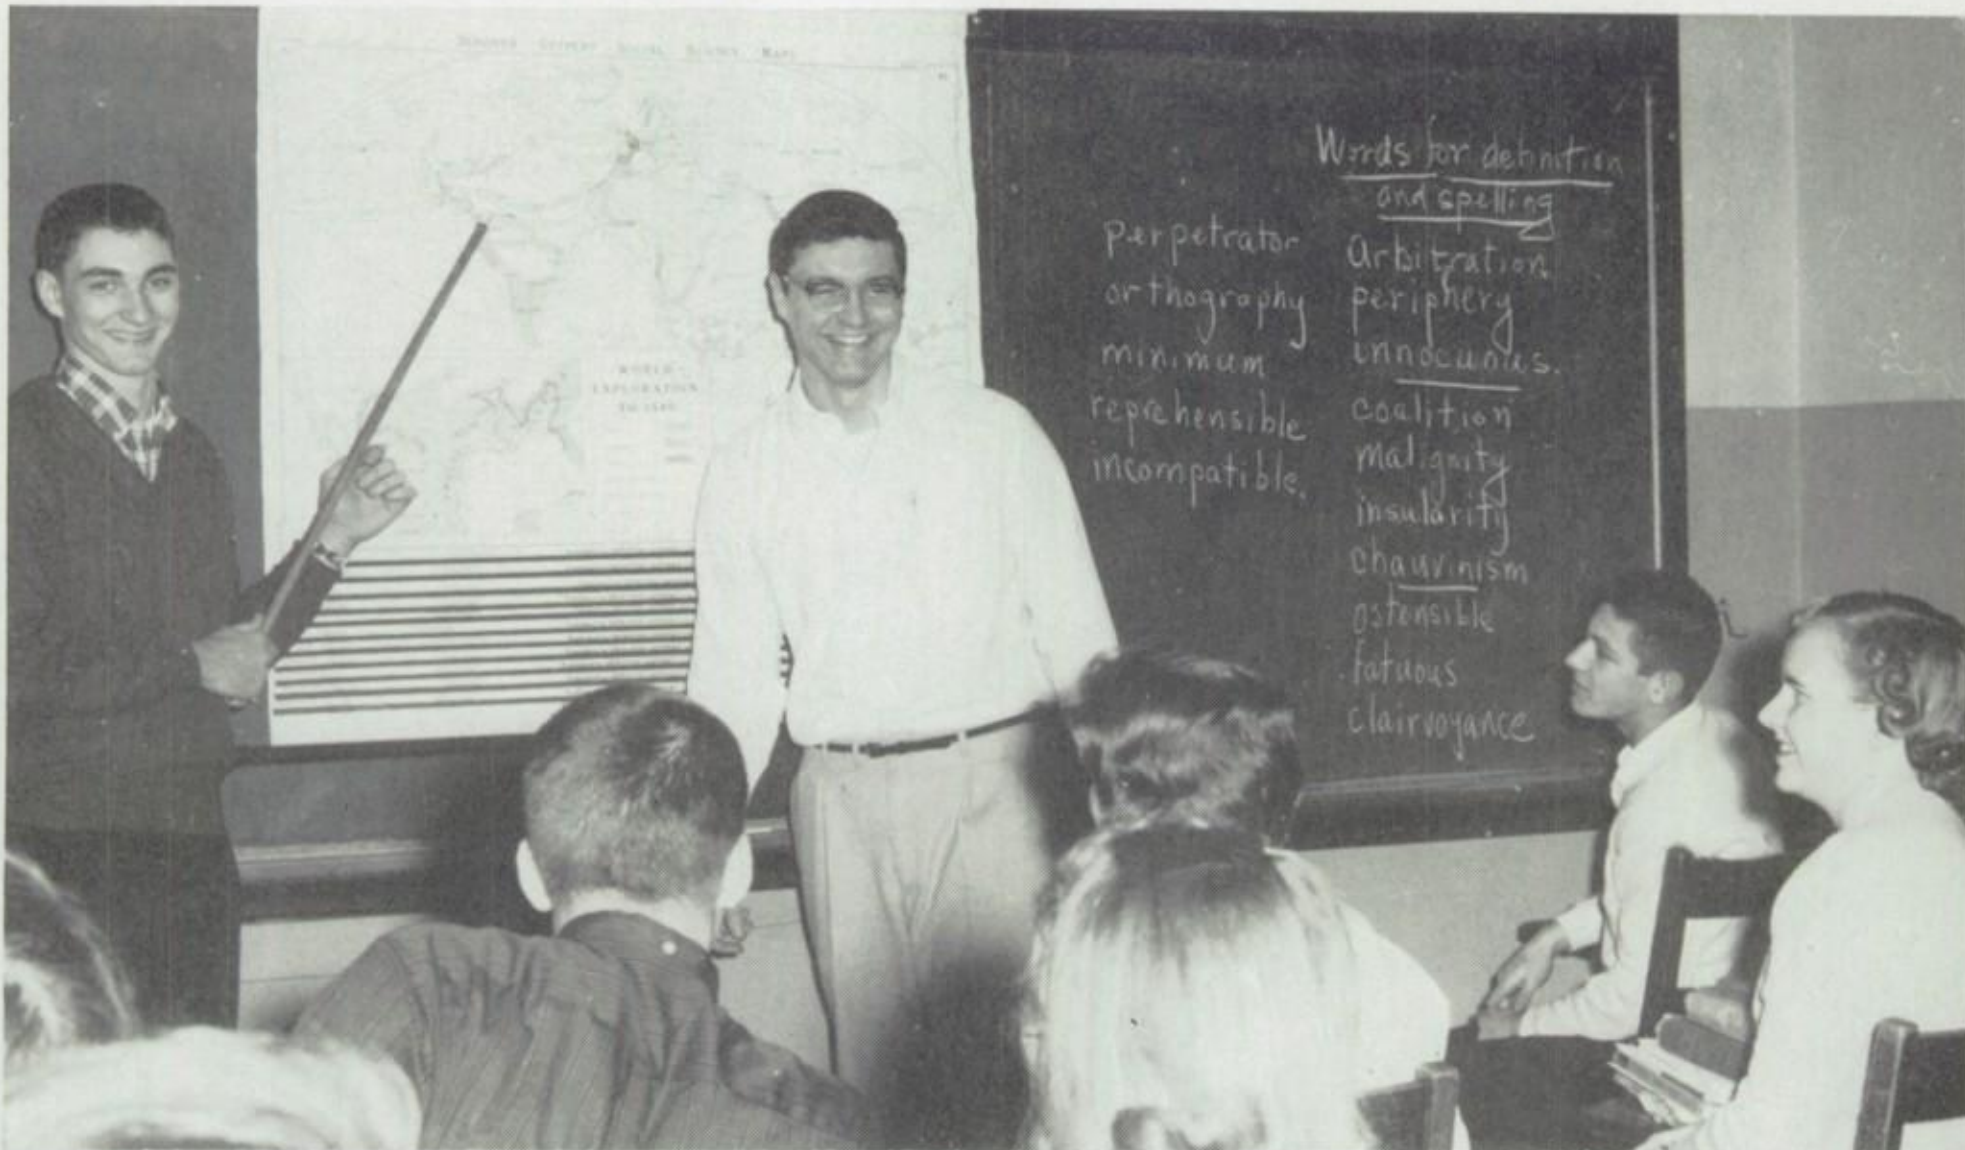

History is the story of what men have thought, said, and done in building a civilization. This story can be told when we have and understand the records of man's thoughts, sayings and doings.

There are many races and nations. A familiarity with their backgrounds enables us to understand them better. Our sympathies are broadened. A study of the past teaches us that all men are brothers under the Fatherhood of God.

Ancient and Medieval History covers the story from the beginning to the period of exploration.

Modern European History reviews certain parts of earlier civilization and explains the vital significance of democracy in modern times.

American History commences with the discovery of America and continues to the present time.

1. American History seems to amuse Ken Fournier and Marvin Heintschel.

2. J. Lamont, F. Blazic and S. Maile review their reports.

The Girls' Art Department

The philosophy of the girls' art department is based on the fact that "everyone should use head, heart, and hands to make well, things that need to be made." Emphasizing womanhood and the arts of Christian family life, all activities are motivated by services to God, fellow creatures, and self.

Fundamental traditional techniques in calligraphy, drawing, painting, and crafts are supplemented by the functional contemporary approach wherever possible. The girls are encouraged to explore new materials and to seek enrichment as well as an understanding of artifacts of all times through a study of art history and through pertinent field trips.

In this four year course the interests of every girl is covered. She can participate in the audio-visual programs, the Catholic Art Apostolate and the Saint Hilda Guild.

1. B. Miller makes a tile table.
2. B. Rybka in the printing business.
3. Diligent work on a clay model done by Pat Slater.
4. K. Katafiasz and C. Suter, hard at work on wall tile?
5. Joan Hankenhof, future Michelangelo?

Boys' Art

Under careful direction the boys' art classes gain knowledge and mastery of the tools, processes, and techniques involved in art.

Among the different phases taught are: oil and water painting, sculpture, woodcraft, leathercraft, ceramics, and metalcraft. True art combines technical ability, skill in execution and a certain fineness of judgment or taste in the selection of theme or subject. This work requires a sense of dramatic values in strong contrasts and a thorough understanding of rhythm and contrast.

The boys produce the various posters, drawings, and letter work for various school activities. They also paint the scenery for the Senior Play.

GIRLS ART DEPARTMENT
C.C.H.S.

1. Having fun, boys?
2. P. O'Rourke and L. Kubicki concentrate on their works of art.
3. James Kerscher makes sure he's sifting into the pan and not on the table.
4. T. Kerste shows J. Fellers how it's done.
5. Ken Walend pours plaster for his forthcoming mold.

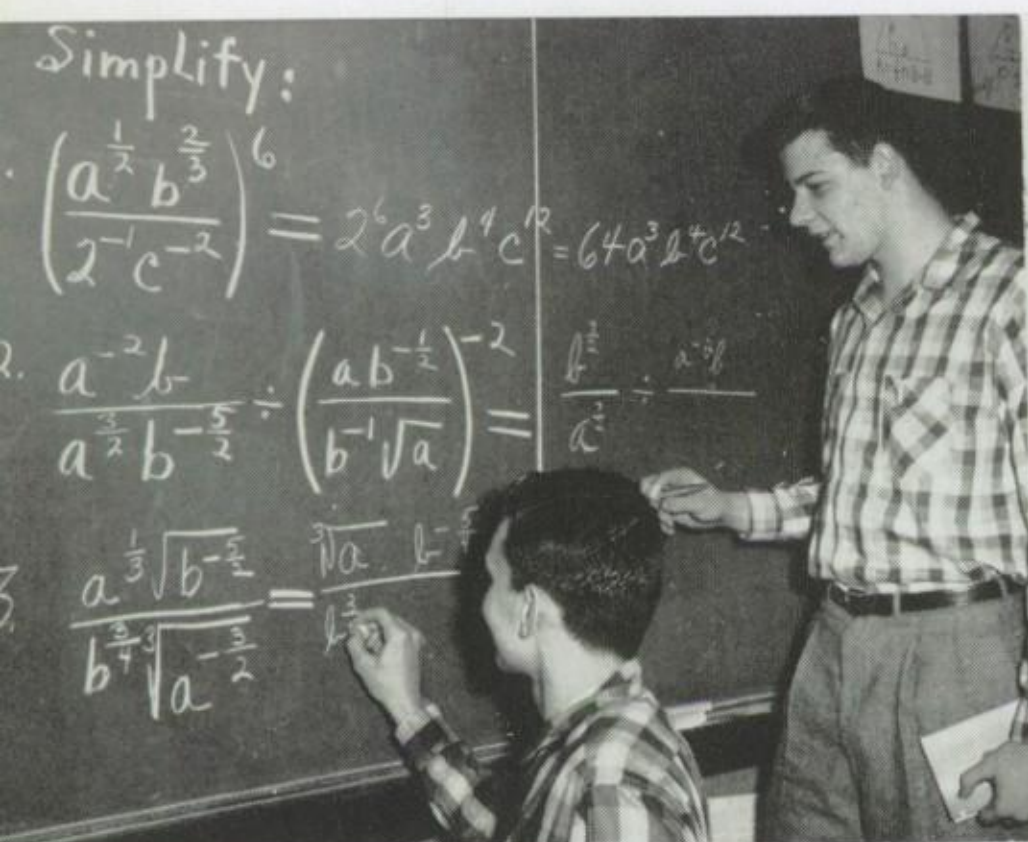

1. G. Phelps, G. Kunz and H. Croci prepare proofs for geometry.

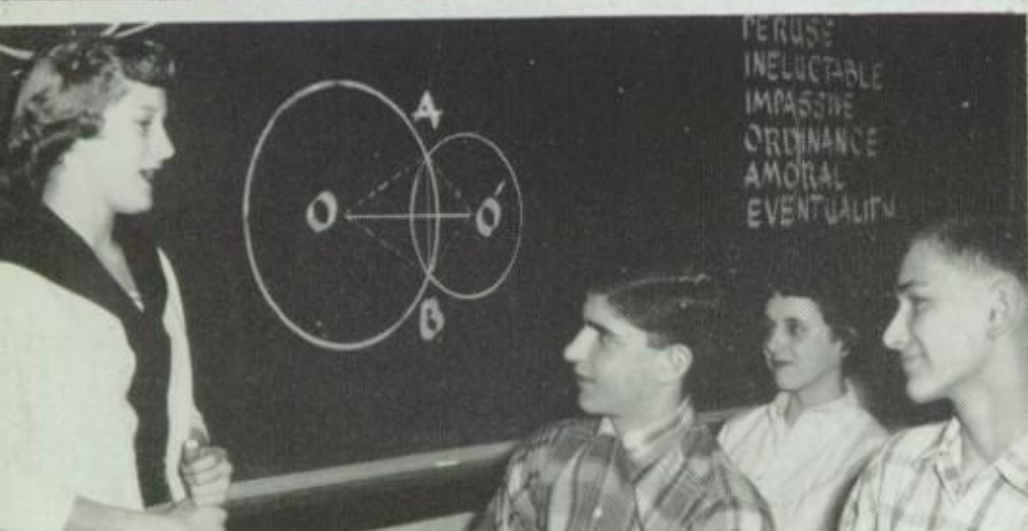

Mathematics

Central offers six courses in mathematics. The freshmen have a choice of algebra or general math, while sophomores and juniors have plane geometry and advanced algebra respectively. The seniors have their math in two units; trigonometry one semester and solid geometry the other.

In the scientific world of today, mathematics is playing an increasingly larger part. Industry is hiring men who major in math and use them exclusively as mathematical engineers.

2. F. Hornyak and D. Schwind simplify complex fractions.
3. B. Napierala demonstrates congruent triangles.

4. The camera seems to be the main interest instead of H. Trabbic and G. Arkebauer.
5. H. Muellen seems bewildered by the laws of exponents.

Drafting

The drafting department at Central aims to prepare the engineer of tomorrow.

This is accomplished in the first year by a thorough study of the principles of descriptive geometry, orthographic projection, surface development, and pictorial drawing.

More of the secrets of engineering are encountered during the second year when the fundamentals of detailing, conventional sectioning, and dimensioning of machine parts are taught.

With the principles which the student of drafting has acquired, he is prepared to pioneer into more advanced fields of engineering.

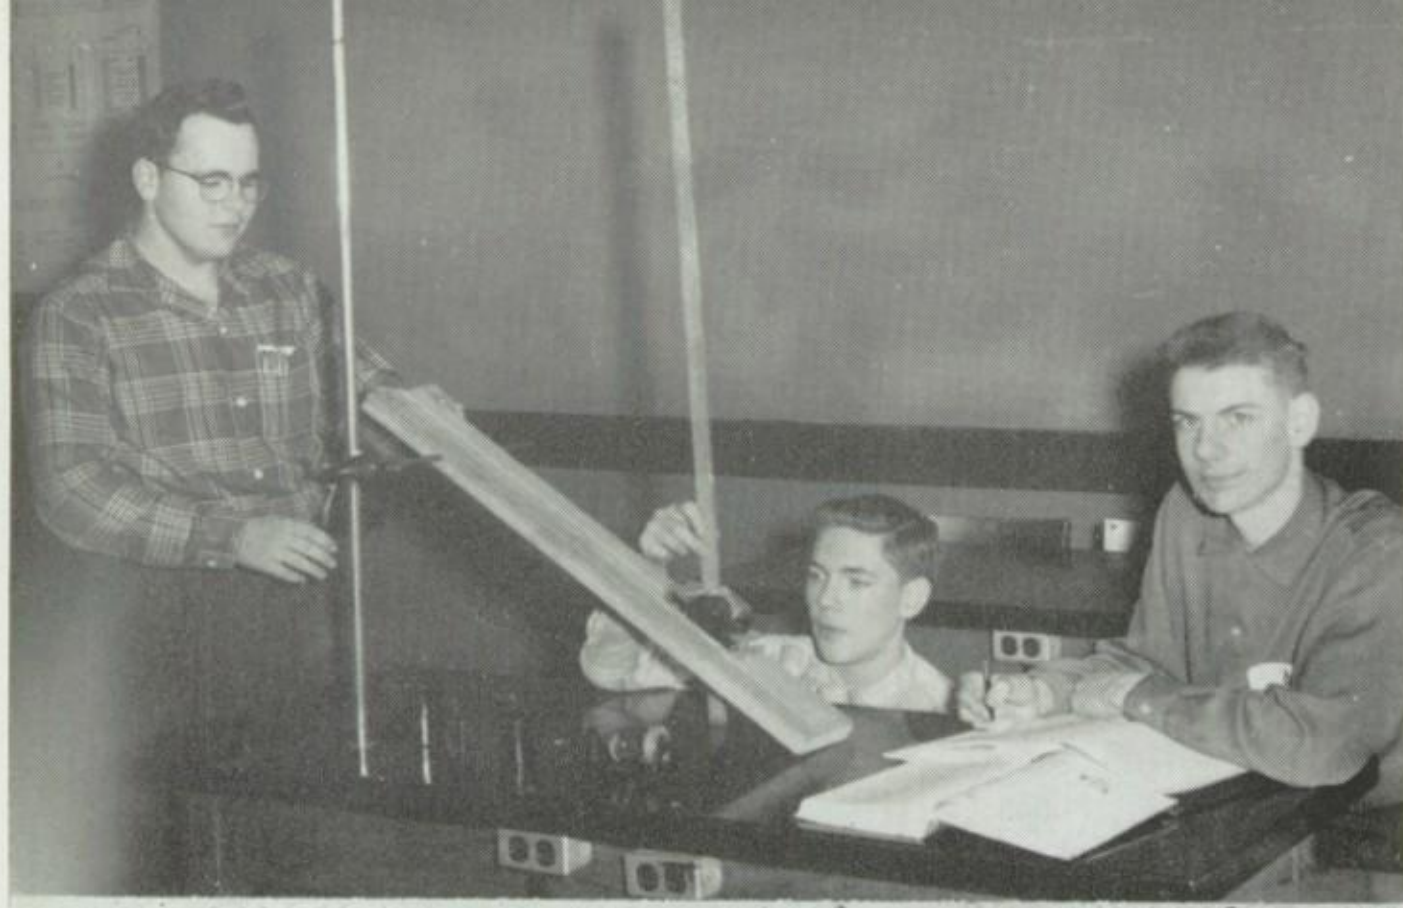

1. R. Linker and B. Toth count threads on a screw.

2. It's nice but will your projector work?
3. T. Halker and L. Rotondo point out the difficulties.

4. John Wiser gives instructions to Roland Early.

Physics

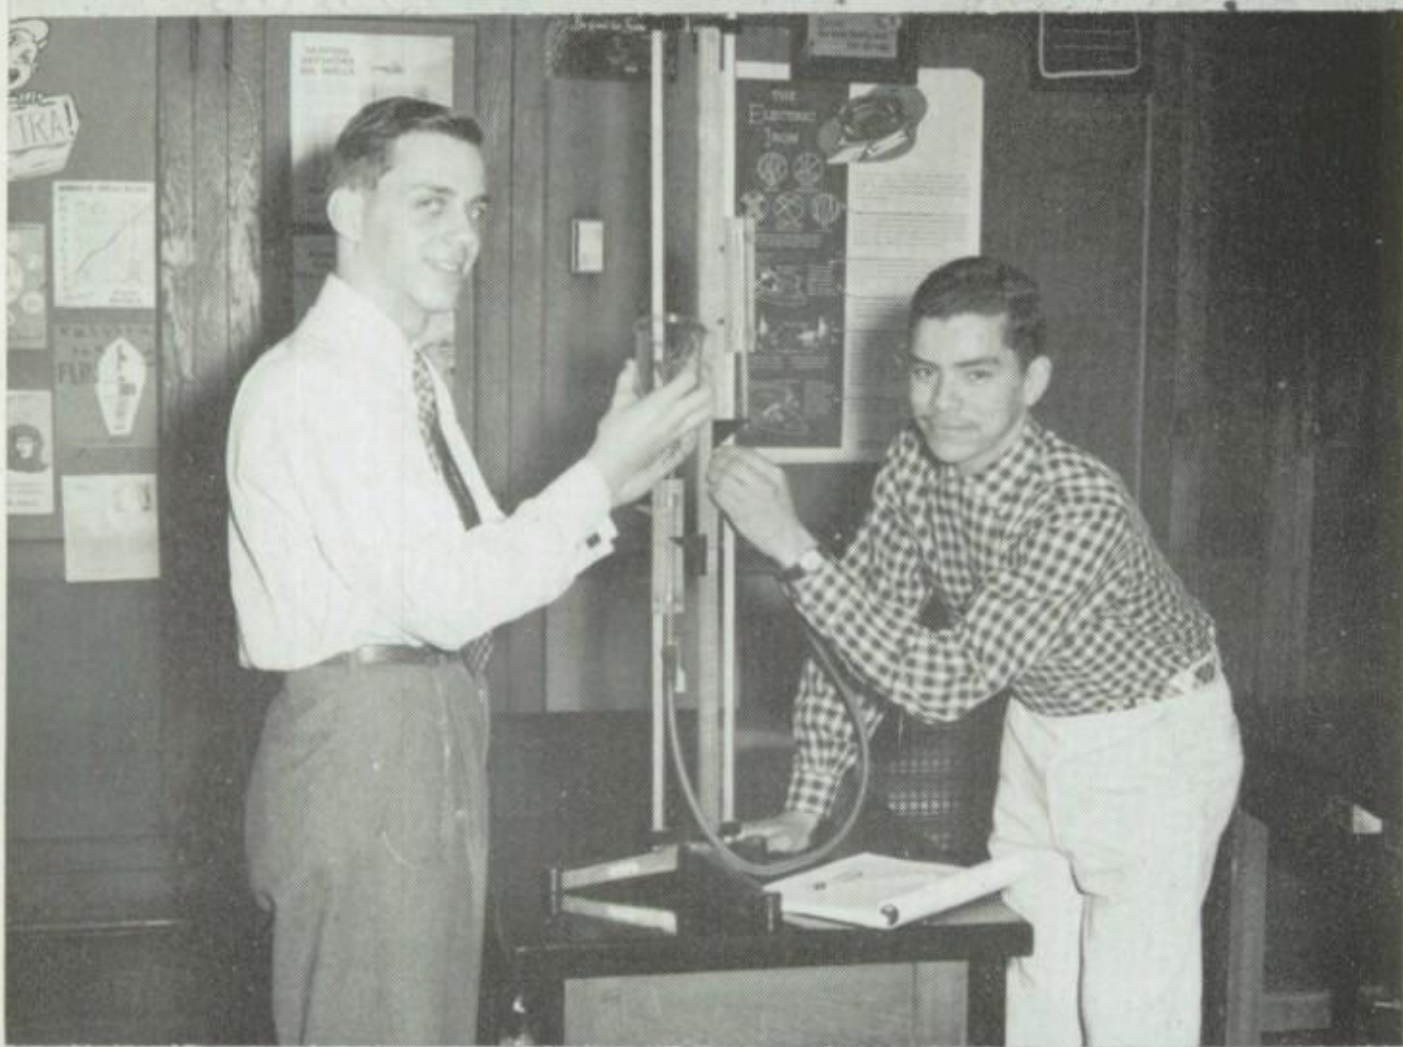

The most wide-spread question in the world is "Why?" and Sr. Caroline and Mr. Fischer are very well qualified to answer this question through physics. Sr. Caroline lends an appreciated helping hand to the juniors and seniors in lab, while Mr. Fischer spends his lecture periods giving his students valuable information by way of demonstrations.

In this age of scientific advancement and progress, physics is most important. Physics teaches a person the natural laws of the universe, as God planned it.

The best day of all is Friday. That's the day Mr. Fischer turns room 305 into a "flicker factory" with his films on physics in industry.

It is by means of these films that the students are enabled to visualize the underlying principles which govern physical matter. An understanding of the physical laws governing all matter leads to an appreciation of the provident wisdom and generosity of the Creator of this matter.

At the Bowling Green State Science Convention, April 6, Larry Mersing, John Czarnecki, Janet Carney, Robert Balser, Gerald Robie and Bruno Rosa received ratings of excellent for the projects they entered. A rating of good was given to David Haefner, Ben Myers and Roger Bresnahan for their entries.

1. H. McMillan, A. Sullivan, and R. Bresnahan illustrate the law of pulleys.
2. R. Rang and J. Thompson, keep your eye on your work!
3. E. Dossat, S. Joyce and R. Parke in charge of cocktails.

Chemistry

Everyone is cognizant of the fact that there is a great demand for more professional men and women in the field of science. As we progress in the atomic age, minds must be trained in order to keep pace with the ever-changing modern world. The study of chemistry not only trains a high school student how to think clearly, but also how to check laws concerning energy and matter.

In the laboratory a chemistry student's curiosity concerning the "Why?" "How?" and "What?" are satisfied as he experiments with laboratory apparatus and materials. At the end of the course the Bunsen burner, thistle tube, and graduated cylinder are very familiar tools to him.

This fascinating subject impresses on the minds of its students the manner in which it affects our daily lives. From morning till night we use chemical products and perform chemical reactions. These experiments and study lead us to a realization of the omnipotence of God and man's dependence on Him.

Three students in Central's Chemistry Department, Walter Susor, William Moore and Renz Maraldo, received a rating of excellent for their scientific entries in the Science Convention at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio, April 6.

1. E. Malone, B. Moore and M. Mercurio prepare secret formulas.
2. J. Serke, B. Veitch, D. Urbanski and J. Sneider . . . "1970" scientists.
3. J. Graham, W. Susor, R. Maraldo view chemistry projects.

Edison's invention intrigues freshmen students.

General Science

Young scientists and engineers in the making! In the study of General Science students obtain a preview of the more advanced sciences of biology, physics, and chemistry.

By studying the nature of the heavenly bodies and matter in general, the students learn to know God better through His creations. This first year course deals with the matter which most closely affects one's everyday life.

Physiology

As students grow older, life becomes more precious to them. They realize that physical life comes from God just as spiritual life does. In order to understand better and to appreciate more the great gift of life which God has given to them, many seniors and juniors study physiology. This study enables them to have a more complete knowledge of the various parts of the body, and the function of each of these parts.

In giving the students a better understanding of themselves, the study of physiology at the same time enlightens them in regard to their various problems and conflicts and thus helps them to lead happier and more useful lives, lives which are a credit to the Mystical Body of Christ, and which really give glory to God.

C. McLoughlin, C. Paulsen and M. Palmer are fully convinced of the complexity of the human mind.

Biology

This course in biology extends to the student an opportunity to attain a fundamental knowledge and understanding of the many mysteries contained in nature. Emphasized throughout the entire course is the fact that God created everything in the world, whether microscopic bacteria or mammoth whale.

Success is achieved by the student through serious study, by his experiments with plant and animal life; by his projects, such as the collections of leaves and bird nests.

The development of life is traced through the ages from its basic stages, such as simple celled plants and animals, to the complex and intricate stages, which includes human life.

1. R. Surdel and J. Tomczak plant miniature gardens.
2. John Rihacek feeds a baby alligator.
3. The hold is in reverse.

4. P. Miller and S. Freiheit, beware of the pincers.
5. Starting a menagerie, girls?
6. Stars of the Starfish!

1. Making favors for the Red Cross.
3. Don't drop the cake!

2. Central's own fashion show.
4. B. Warchol keeps an eye on the temperature.
5. Party-time festivities under way for the second year Home Ec. students.

Home Economics

Happy family living takes a "Team", husband and wife. Home Economics is a preparation for the most important career for every girl. It helps the homemaker of tomorrow to understand the many problems that she will meet in her future life in her role as "wife and mother."

The mature homemaker, first and foremost, must know the meaning of love, must be a companion to her husband, know something about his interests, be adaptable to his friends and his way of doing things, and keep herself attractively groomed at all times.

The student needs intelligent reading and sound thinking in order to study the basic phases of family life. She must also be able to give her children the feeling of acceptance and praise them for achievements accomplished, and give affection to her husband and children.

These are the high points in the training for the "Number One Job" on the list of all careers for women.

Music Appreciation

In the music appreciation classes students acquire a knowledge of all types and forms of music, linked with a history of the period in which it was composed, as well as an appreciation for the aesthetic qualities of music.

Those who have acquired a basic knowledge of music through the study of a musical instrument, and are interested in musical composition and the harmonic beauties of music, find the course in harmony a fine preparation for more advanced work in musical composition in the pursuance of this art.

The sophomore and freshman Girls Choral groups have organized to sing the daily Mass in the school chapel, with special performances on First Fridays. They also sing at the special High Mass offered for the Graduating Class which climaxes the year's work.

1. Music seems to put John Nash to sleep.

2. Sing loud and clear, girls.

Barbara Nadeau simplifies bookkeeping for David Lauber.

Commercial Department

In the Business Department secretarial training, shorthand, typing, office practice, bookkeeping, commercial geography, and commercial law, offer a well-rounded commercial course to the student. These subjects prepare the student to meet the exacting requirements of the modern offices of today.

The first year shorthand classes stress the development of perfect penmanship, speedy writing of outlines, reading and transcribing of notes, while the second year classes stress the ability to transcribe notes rapidly and accurately.

Typewriting is taught every period of the day. Great emphasis is placed on the mastery of the keyboard during the first year training, while the second year emphasizes production, speed, and accuracy.

Office Practice, a one year course, familiarizes the students with the proper methods of handling mail, comptometers, electric typewriters and bookkeeping machines.

Work in the business world pertaining to accounting is taught in the Bookkeeping Class, a one year course. The students become familiar with business forms besides developing systematic habits and clerical neatness and accuracy.

The Commercial Law class strives to teach the importance of law in regard to the individual, to business, and to society; that is, the value to everyone in handling his own affairs, in completing transactions in business, and in understanding his relation to society.

Economic Geography, taught in the first semester, presents the earth as the home of mankind. The central aim is to develop an understanding of how man's life differs in various regions. Each region, or country is studied as its agriculture, industries, and branches of trade, concern the PEOPLE WHO LIVE THERE and not as an area viewed from the outside.

During the second semester, the course Community Civics aims to establish in the student sound ideas about our democratic form of government; first, as this government is applied nationally; second, as it serves the states and local communities.

To make a long story short Building Citizenship is a "DESIGN FOR LIVING."

1. Tom Cieslewicz laughs off Judge Kaifas' sentence.
2. Helen Rakay adds with precision and speed.
3. Sally Newman is aided by the Bookkeeping machine.

4. Keep your eyes on the copy, girls!
5. Senior girls try out new Electric IBMs.
6. Faster, girls!

1. Rosalie Jankowski returns a library book to Jeanne Luchette.
2. Paul Hornyak investigates banking news.

3. Diane House, daydreaming or working?
4. Senior G. Simon doesn't envy Junior essayists.

Library

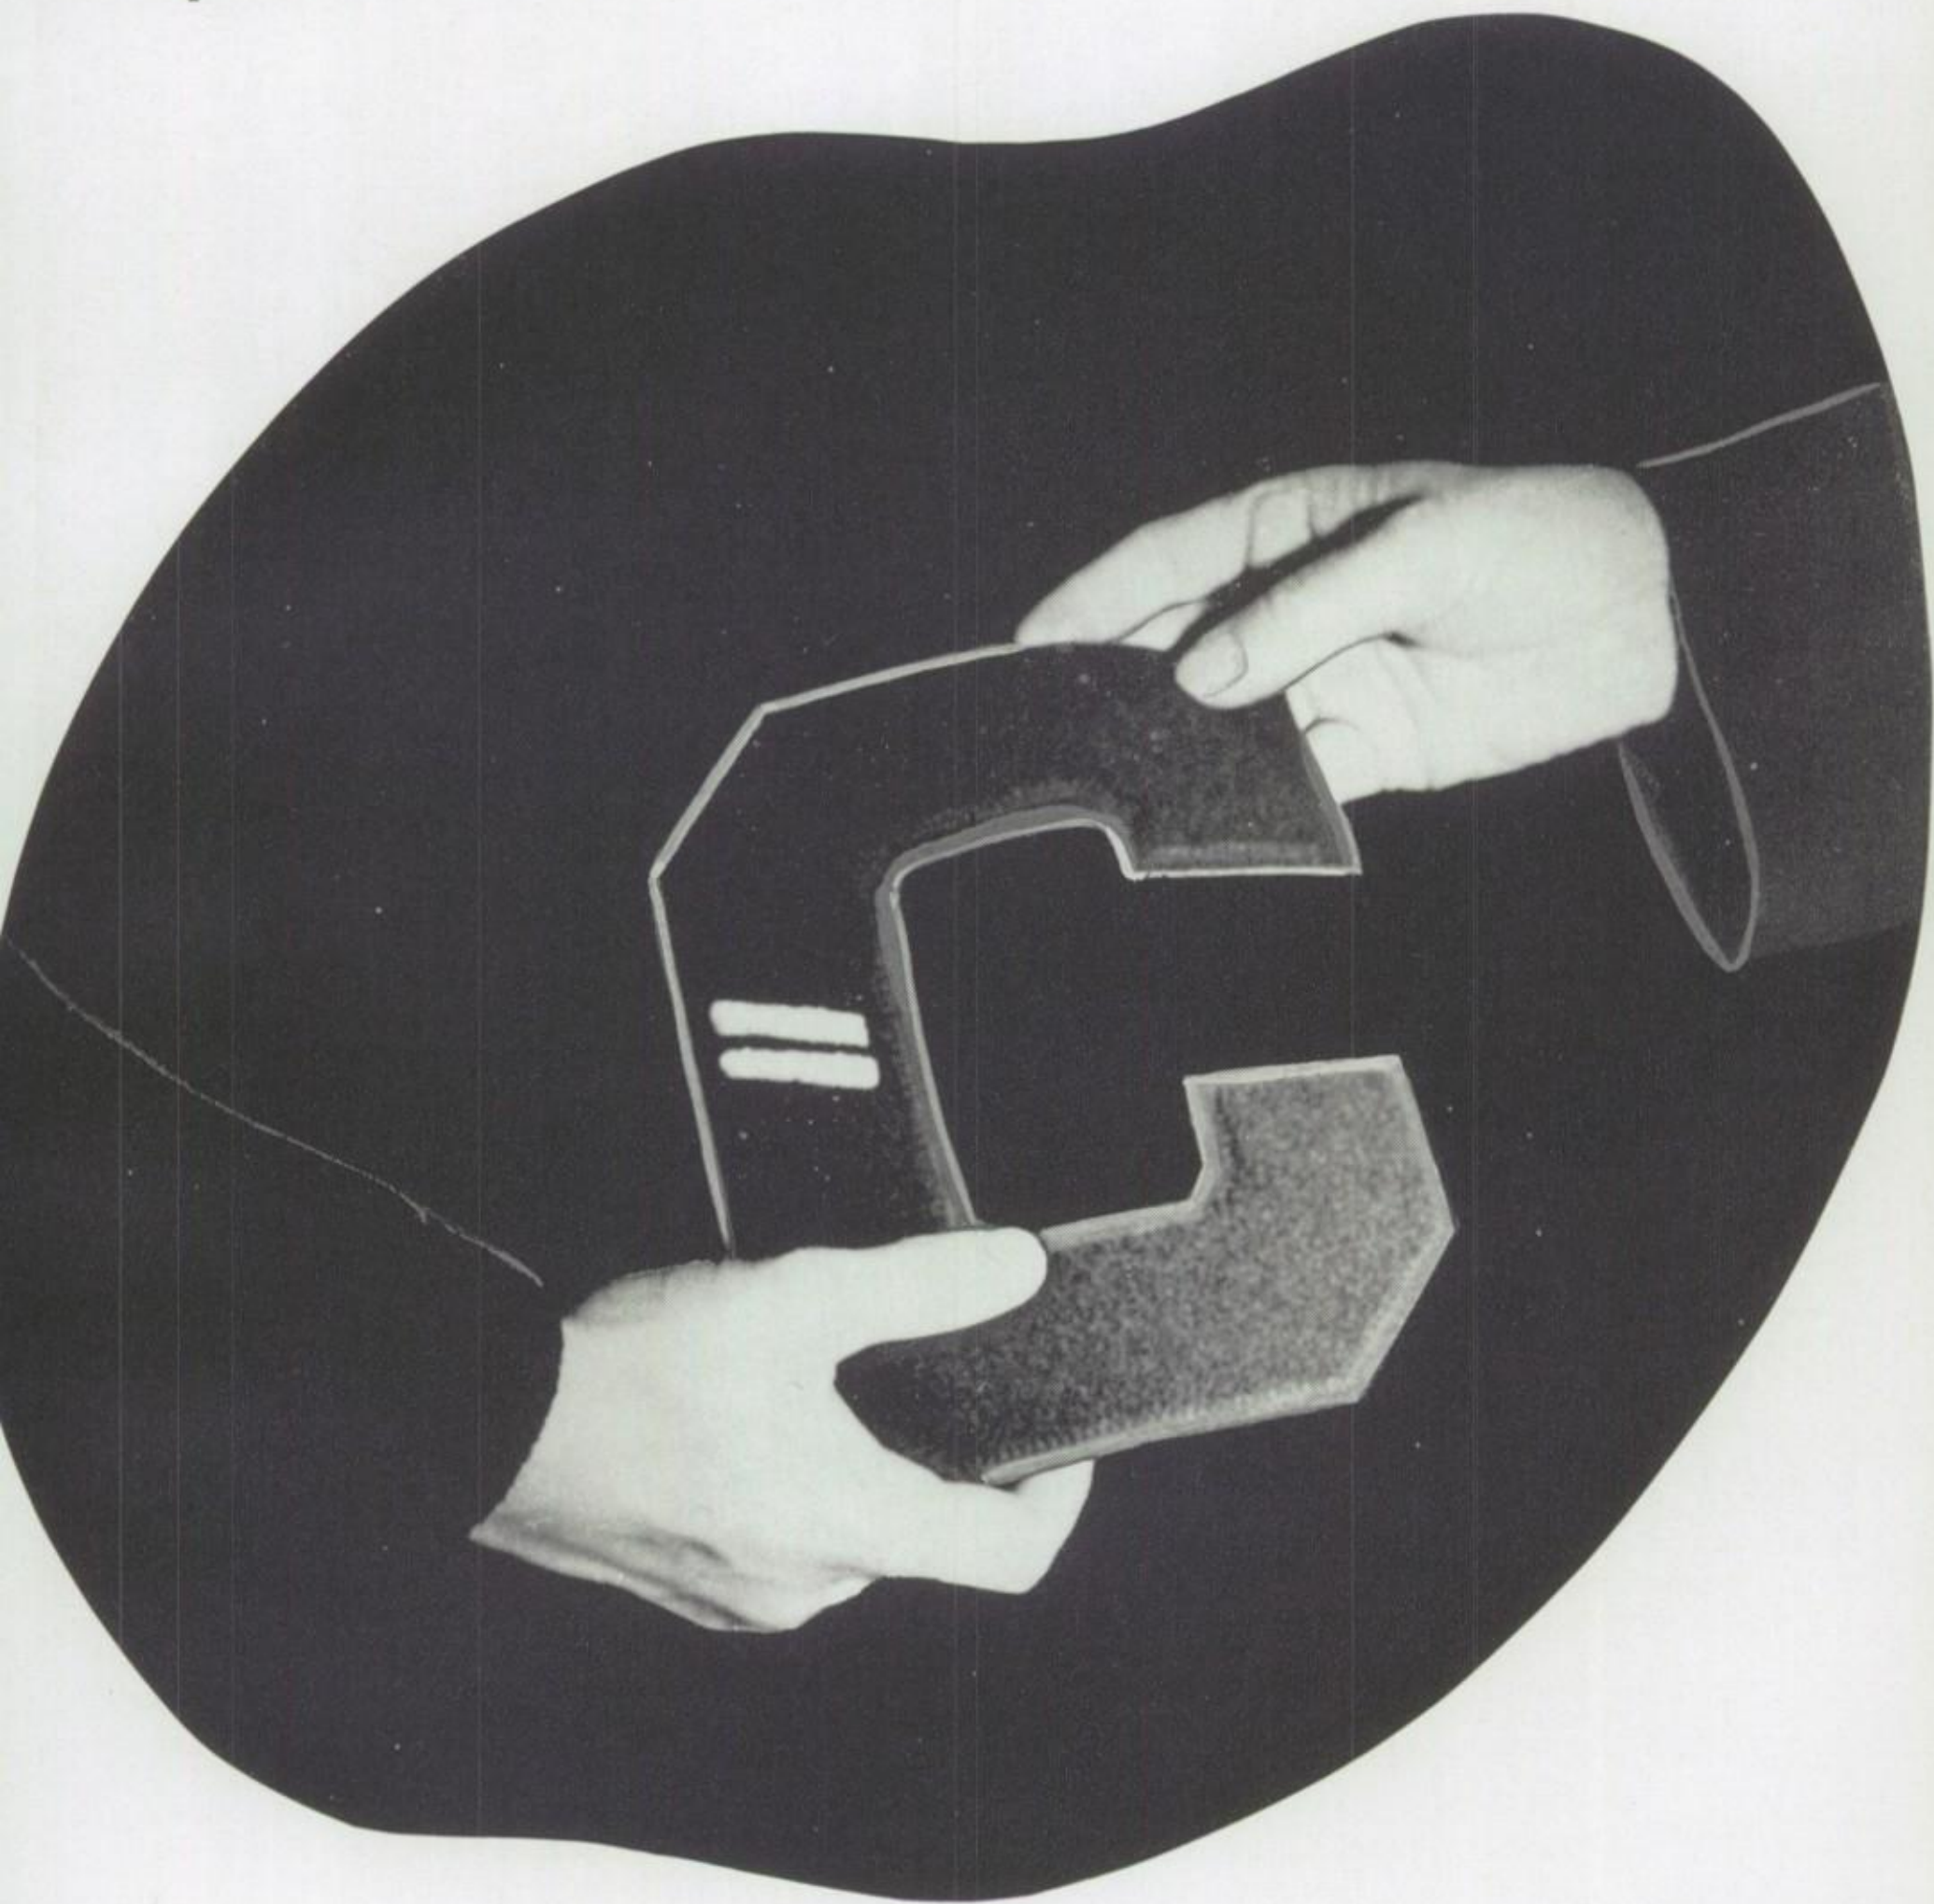

The library is the center of the educational life in the school. It provides the reading and reference facilities necessary to make our educational program effective.

Central's library with its thousands of volumes and reference material, constitutes an important part in the student's life here at school. Books are read, periodicals are perused, and from them assignments and essays are born. This is the home of classics in fiction and fact, the critical essays and the biographies.

As freshmen, all the students are taught the proper method of locating books easily and quickly. The whole student body has come to appreciate and depend on this storehouse of knowledge.

Athletic Director

Varsity

Athletic Director, Richard Finn

As Athletic Director, Mr. Finn has enthusiastically promoted all of Central's sports Activities.

A graduate of Ohio State, where he excelled in baseball, Mr. Finn captained that squad his senior year.

Through his active Alumni and Friends of Central Association work, he has captured not only the hearts of the whole student body but also those of the alumni. The seniors, will remember, with gratitude, his efforts in promoting the train excursion to Massillon for the opening football game.

Mr. Thomas McHugh
Head Football Coach

Head Football Coach, Thomas McHugh

Central's "Fighting Irish", under Coach McHugh, captured second place in the city league. Mr. McHugh, who is not a stranger to the halls of Central, played on Central's city championship team of 1949.

After graduating from Notre Dame, where he played fullback, he went into professional ball with the Ottawa Roughriders.

Coming to Central in 1955, he worked wholeheartedly to improve the team. Mr. McHugh's first year as head coach was an example of his fight and determination to win, and we are sure that in the near future he will again lead Central to a City Championship.

Coach Daniel Piloseno

Since 1954, when Mr. Piloseno came to Central from Steubenville, Ohio, Central's line has shown, by capturing second place in the city league, the time and hard work he has given to them. Mr. Piloseno's many duties include teaching, gym instruction and direction of the intramural program. Central students owe many thanks to him for his fine work throughout the year.

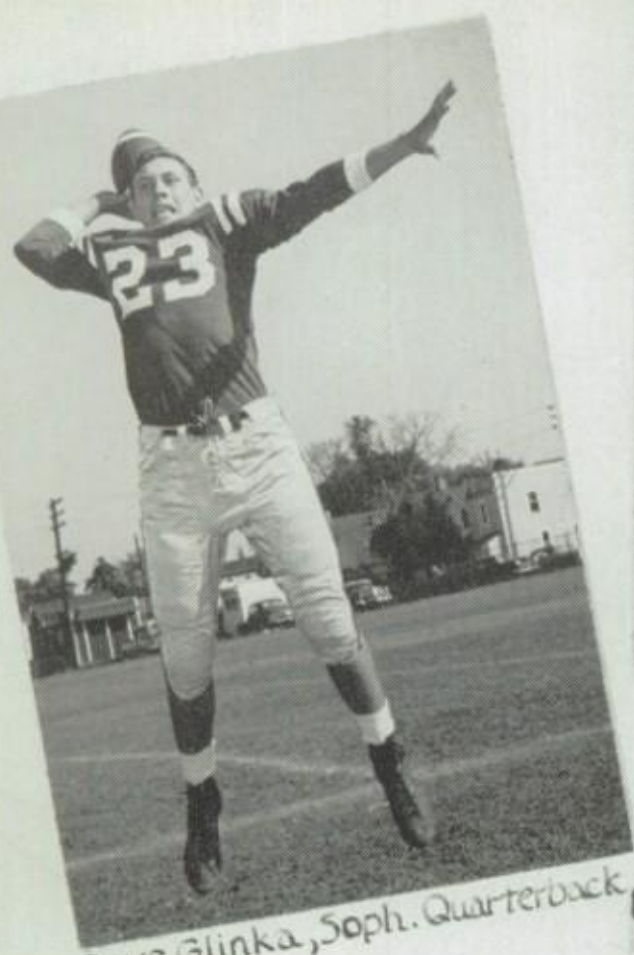

Mr. Daniel Piloseno
Assistant Football Coach

Coach Richard Gordon

A newcomer this year and a great asset to the Fighting Irish was Coach Dick Gordon. As line coach, he displayed a spirit which enthused the whole team. While at DeVilbiss, from which he graduated in 1949, he was named All-City lineman. At Toledo University, where he furthered his education, he continued his football career. After receiving his degree, he remained there as assistant coach. He finds the cooperation with the Central students very good. We are very proud to have such a fine man on our coaching staff and all the students wish him the best of luck in the future.

Lightweight Football

In his first attempt at coaching at Central, Coach Nichols guided his lightweight team through a rough season. Two wins, three losses, and one tie was the final record, but the record does not tell the whole story. Many of the "sophs" were on the varsity squad which naturally hurt the lightweights. Nevertheless, the experience gained by both Mr. Nichols and the players will aid next year's grid team.

The Central lightweight basketball team, coached by Tom McHugh finished fourth in the league. The sophomore quintet played a well balanced offensive and defensive game, and will work their way up to be valuable assets for the 1957 varsity squad.

Mr. Finn's "Baby Irish" made a fine showing in the city league by compiling a 3 win, 3 loss record for the season. Central's freshmen have developed real spirit and teamwork which should bring them near the city championship in the future.

The freshman basketball team, under the guidance of Mr. Finn, displayed a great deal of potential while establishing a 4 and 9 record.

Central's 1956-'57 basketball team, under the guidance of coach Robert Nichols, finished the season with twelve wins in nineteen starts. Although the shortest team in the league, Central's fighting spirit and raw determination gained a tie for second place. The team displayed a balanced attack which constantly confused the opposing team.

Mr. Robert Nichols

In his first year as head coach, Mr. Nichols showed the type of coach he is by piloting the basketball squad over all other teams except Macomber who were State finalists. He received his knowledge of basketball while attending Toledo University where he played varsity ball for three years.

His future coaching years at Central will be successful if he continues to have the cooperation and zeal of the up and coming squad.

Annual Lettermen's Awards

Pat Reilly, Marty Grosjean, and Tony Rejent were selected by their teammates as outstanding players on the wrestling, football, and basketball teams respectively.

Pat, although only a sophomore, finished fourth in his weight division at the Regional Wrestling Tournament. He was chosen most valuable player for his clean wrestling by his fellow grapplers, and is regarded as a promising star on next year's young wrestling team.

For his spirited play, Marty Grosjean was awarded a berth on the second team All-City football squad. This senior halfback played both offense and defense and was instrumental in leading his teammates through a winning season.

Tony, a senior, who played varsity basketball for three years, was named to the All-City first team. His agility and shooting ability gained for him the most valuable player award even though he was the shortest man on the squad.

Football Banquet 1956-1957

The Right Rev. Monsignor Jerome V. MacEachin, Newman Club chaplain on the Michigan State campus, accepted an invitation to be speaker at the 1956 Central Catholic football banquet, December 5.

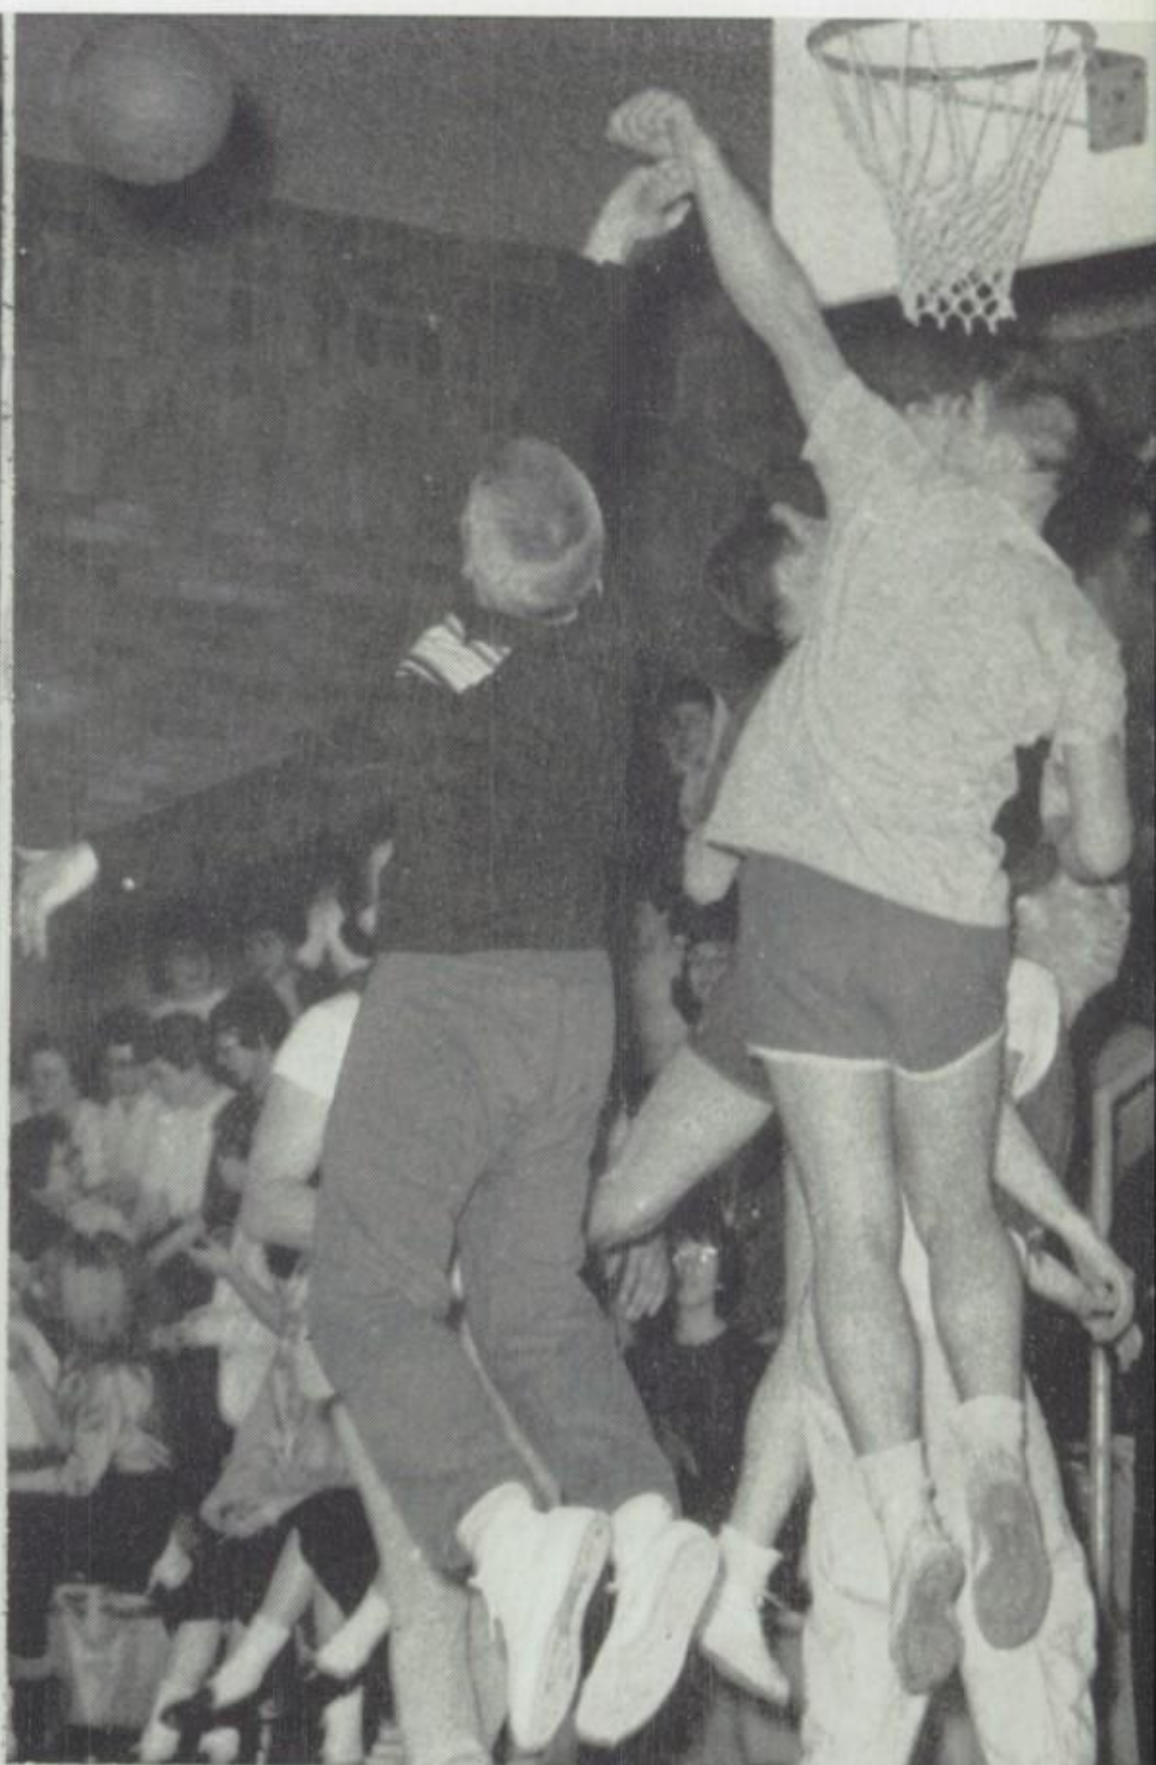

Mr. Matthew Tank, class of '31, president of the Alumni and Friends of Central Association, was chairman of the toast to the Pigskin Stars, at the Commodore Perry Hotel.

Marty Grosjean, voted by his teammates as the most valuable player, was presented with the Mike DiSalle Trophy for his outstanding ability and team spirit.

The Blade and Times All-City awards were presented to Dave Radlinski, Buzz Fournier, and Ed Nasser by Don Wolfe, Blade Sports Editor. Second team honors went to Dave Radlinski, Marty Grosjean, George Francis, and Bob Vetter. Coach T. McHugh named Bob Vetter and Buzz Fournier co-captains of next year's Fighting Irish.

Girl's Athletic League

The Girl's Athletic League, established at Central in 1930, has completed its twenty-seventh year as an athletic organization. Through the combined efforts and the leadership of its officers: Committee Chairman, Kathleen Yost; Secretary, Janet LaVigne; Bowling Secretary, Nancy Rowe; President, Phyllis Kowalski; Committee Chairman, Gloria Konecny, the G A L was again one of the most worthwhile activities of the school year. Absent when picture was taken was Vice President, Pat Konopinsk.

The purpose of this organization is to promote and develop leadership, sportsmanship, athletic ability, and present an extensive physical and health program to its members. The G A L works together as a group doing its best to attain a spirit of sportsmanship among its members. Bowling, horseback-riding, roasts, picnics, and splash parties are among the activities offered by the G A L to any girl who desires to become an active member.

Miss Leonhardt is also the instructor for all girls' gym classes which include these activities: basketball, volleyball, shuffleboard, deck tennis, and softball.

At the completion of the school year, the G A L sponsors an athletic banquet at which letters, chevrons, pins, bracelets, and trophies are awarded to members who have earned sufficient points.

3. Nancy Rowe improves her high league average.

4. The Sturdy Steadies with G. Konecny, P. Kowalski, B. Kusner, N. Rowe, and J. LaVigne, captured first place in GAL League.

Varsity Cheerleaders

The Cheerleaders, who are considered a vital factor in the Athletic program of the school, lead the student body, at the games, at assemblies, at rallies, in cheers of enthusiasm, which are a necessary factor for any victory. They created the spirit which the team needed in order to have the potential desire to go ahead and win.

M. Domonkos, J. Babcock, D. Fackelman, J. Sneider, E. Skeldon, J. Calkins, S. Ball.

Lightweights Cheerleaders

Early morning and late evening workouts developed their efficiency in arousing the spirit which climaxed each contest.

The lightweight cheerleaders who kept the gym filled with roaring student cheers during the lightweight games, will be able to carry on the job of varsity, because of their experience the past year.

G. Konecny, E. Glonek, J. Thompson, R. Kaufman, K. Wintringham.

D. Dowling, R. Seymour, W. Ditman, L. Minor.

Managers

The managers who are perhaps the most faithful and valuable members of the teams, attend every practice but do not play on the squads. Their job is to keep the equipment in perfect shape and to help the coaches and players whenever and wherever possible.

It was their promptness and efficiency that helped our teams, both basketball and football, end the season in second place.

Organizations

His hands present the gavel of student authority.

Eucharistic Marian

The primary aim of this committee is to pervade the school with Catholic Attitudes, and to stimulate devotion to Our Lady and bring her into our daily lives.

This committee meets twice a month and attempts to develop the spiritual life of the students. This is accomplished by the assistance at Mass, the reception of Holy Communion, and recitation of the rosary.

The chief activity of this committee is the annual May Convocation, an event in which the whole school participates.

Row 2: Janet Woelfl, Paul Kokocinski, Patrick Dooley, Patricia Anistik, Beverly Bellas, John Samsel.

Apostolic Committee

It is the vocation of every God-loving soul to spread the knowledge of Christ in His kingdom. The students of Central Catholic High School are given an opportunity to fulfill this obligation through the medium of the Apostolic Committee, which functions through the conference rooms. General meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month—a day designed as Mission Day at Central.

Row 2: Robert Strogonoff, Patricia Foy, Elaine Riddle, Sharon Jakubowski, Jerry Seitz.

Row 1: Dolores Arvay, Dianne Kazmierczak, Lawrence Scripp, Arthur Kuhn, Marie Schaub, Evelyn Glonek.

Literature Committee

The primary purpose of this organization is to promote good Christian reading among teenagers.

Besides sponsoring the Annual Faculty Tea and Book Week, they list excellent books and authors, exhibit reviews and criticisms, and aid in the fight against indecent literature.

During retreat an excellent display of pamphlets is made available to the students.

The most recent and inspiring literature added to their collection is Hatch & Walshe's Crown of Glory, (the life of Pope Pius XII) and Theodore Maynard's Great Catholics in American History.

Carol Paulsen, Barbara Nadeau, Nancy Navarre.

Laurretta Hench, Janet LaVigne, Patricia Slater, Brook Miller, Irene Hornyak.

St. Hilda Guild

The aim and privilege of the girls' art classes is to keep the chapel prepared for all liturgical functions. This is accomplished by a division of girls. Each group, divided into three orders: apprentices, journeymen and masters, has its special duties which maintain the order of the chapel. The qualifications to each order are listed on a point system.

St. John Berchmans

One of the most important organizations here at Central for the boys is the St. John Berchmans Sanctuary Society, founded in 1936. Its chief purpose is to foster religious vocations among its members.

The members of this society have the opportunities to serve Mass and Benediction, lead the Stations of the Cross during Lent and participate in the annual May Convocation. The officers and the assistant master of ceremonies are permitted to take part in the Annual Retreat and the Senior Day of Recollection.

Dean Manson, George Steger, John Connors, John Flanagan, Paul Kwiatkowski.

Girls'

YCS

YCS is the student division of the specialized Catholic Action movement, which aims to serve the student community through institutional action, i.e., the observation of student social needs and the creation of services to satisfy those needs. It also aims to assist members to the attainment of a Christian social leadership formation. This Lay Apostolate employs the principle of "Like to Like," workers create good social pressures among workers, families among families, students among students. It is also the organized movement of high school students in the U. S. to encourage the good and change the bad social pressures in their environment, to convert worldly ways of thinking into Christian designs for action. At the Summer Study Week YCS'ers from all over the country meet to deepen their knowledge of YCS techniques and to study the next year's program. The spirit of YCS is giving—yourself, your time, your energy.

This year YCS sponsored the Freshman Orientation Program, Retreat, Pamphlet Library Service, the Diocesan Study Day, the Advent-wreath demonstration, the First Parent-Teenage Forum, and together with the Senior Class — Career Day.

Art Apostolate Guild

The Art Apostolate Guild consists of students from the girls' art classes. Its chief duties are to spread Christ through art and to help our neighbors through art.

Future Nurses of America

Future Nurses, one of Central's active organizations, was founded three years ago. Its primary purpose is to promote more interest, in Nursing, among the upper-classmen. At the monthly meeting, speakers are invited to give interesting talks on the different phases of Nursing.

The Future Nurses Club is a member of the Area Future Nurses Organization, which was recently organized. At the Area meeting, members of the Nursing Corps of the Armed Forces were invited as speakers, and a Tea was held afterwards.

Judy Calkins, Sue Raitz, Sharon Holt, Patricia Noonan, Marietta Jeziorski.

Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers of America has been an active organization at Central for the past seven years. In addition to the club meetings opportunities are provided for its members to attend lectures and social functions.

The purpose of this organization is threefold: exploratory, provocation and character forming. Its establishment is also threefold: (1) to aid young people in learning the facts and opportunities of the teaching profession in their locale; (2) to study the lives of the great teachers; (3) and to cultivate good character and leadership qualities, which are essential to a good teacher.

Kathy Irmen, Shirley Kandik, Margaret Palmer, Sue Camp.

Carol Czubek, Roger Krempa, William Hoffman, Mary Perkins.

Camera Club

The primary purpose of the 4-C Club (Central Catholic Camera Club) is to provide those interested in photography with an understanding of the fundamentals and techniques of this field.

Their meetings include the showing of slides, demonstrations of the various uses of different cameras, and the methods of developing and enlarging pictures.

They learn to improve their pictures by open examination before the group. An active and interested member can obtain a letter.

Civics Club

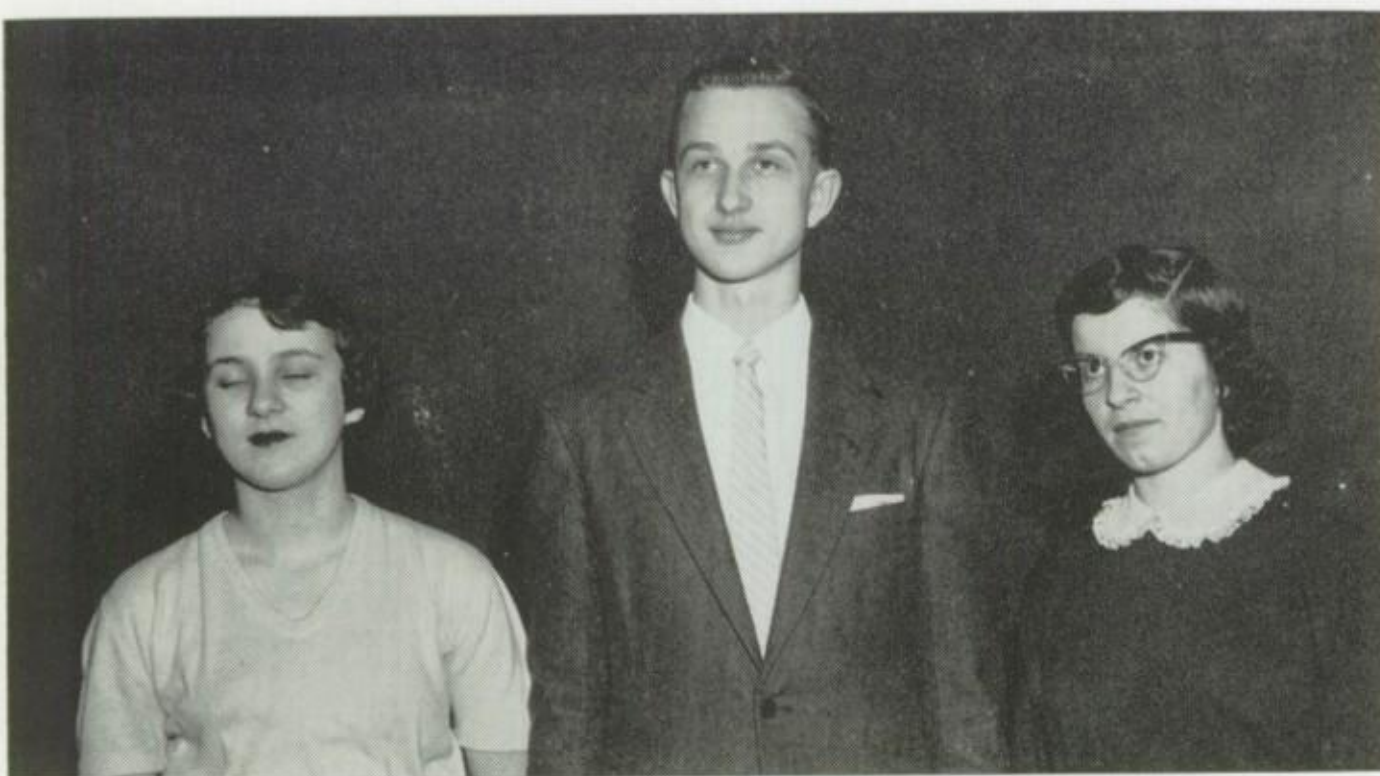

Christ the King Civics Club, a senior organization, strives to promote in its members national pride and an active interest in governmental activities.

It received its charter from the Commission on American Citizenship of the Catholic University of America, December 1, 1952. Its officers are members of the executive committee of the Junior Council on World Affairs of Toledo, an organization made up of representatives of all Toledo and area high schools.

Having existed for the past seven years it has stirred up in the students a greater understanding of civic undertakings, both national and local.

Robert McCullough, John Connors, Carol Ryan, John Serke.

Regina Ball, Paul Kokocinski, Joanne Sadoski.

Aquinas History Club

The Aquinas History Club was established in 1950. Membership is open to sophomore and junior history students who are interested in supplementing their Modern or American History classwork.

The club uses research for oral reports and discussion about their own selected world, national, or local historical topic. One or more local spot of historical interest is visited by the club on a Field Trip every Spring.

Chess Club

To teach its members good standards of sportsmanship is the chief aim of this club. Inter-high school competitive contests are the most outstanding events of its activities.

The Chess Club has as its motto: "Modesty—in defeat: Courage—but always thoughtful."

Robert Sullivan, Kenneth Walend, Charles Kraus, William Kinnear.

Sue Camp, John Czarnecki, Margaret Del Brocco.

Math Club

The Math Club, now in its fourth year of existence, is open to all junior and senior mathematics students. Its primary purpose is to interest its members in phases of math not studied in the classroom.

It carries out this aim by promoting comprehensive contests for ambitious students, student mathematics convention, the study of college entrance exams for prospective candidates, student research and project exhibits.

Row 2: Patricia Wozny, Lawrence Swartz.
Row 1: Joanne Patrzalek, Roger Krempa, Gail Faber.

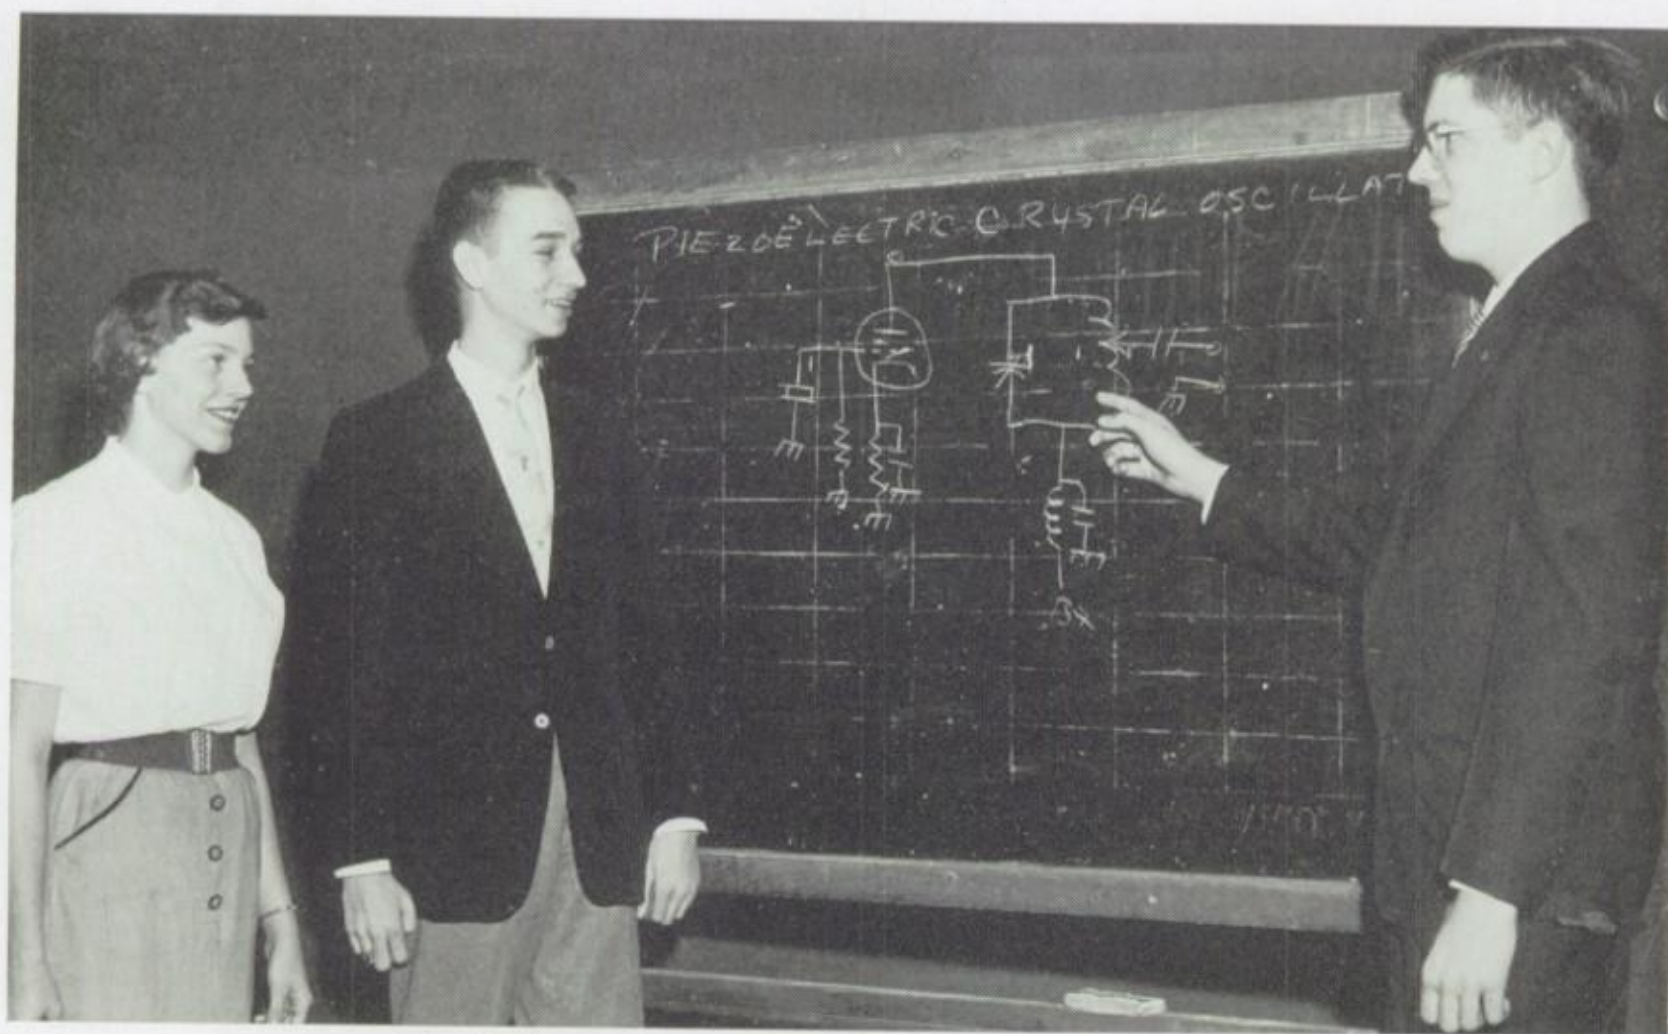

Biology Club

This organization strives to increase the student's knowledge of science and to create a great appreciation of God's works in the universe.

The object of this club is to promote projects outside the classroom. The general categories are: experiments, artificial models, surveys, and special studies.

The members take an active participation in the District and State Science Day at Bowling Green. This is the outstanding undertaking of the organization.

Camille Despault, Gregory Balser, Robert Babione.

Radio Club

The Radio Club, which has been in existence for the past five years, has encouraged students to get their "ham" licenses by helping them learn code and theory.

Its meetings are held at the station located in the basement of the music building. The use of the station enables the members to contact fellow-hams throughout the area.

Robert Huss
Commissioner of Constitution

Student Council

With more than thirty years experience of initiating, promoting, and conducting school activities, the Student Council is still experimenting and improving itself; thereby fulfilling its purpose as outlined in the Constitution "the betterment of C.C.H.S." The latest innovation is the revision of the constitution whereby the fundamental organization of the group is changed to take on a form which resembles that of the government of the United States.

The Student Council is composed of five legislative departments; namely, the Student Senate and the four Class Councils.

The Student Senate is the upper house of legislature. It comprises the Student Council officers, all class officers, all senators, commissioners, a representative from the Inter Club Council, and the two faculty sponsors. The Student Senate which meets weekly serves as the executing body for general policies directly relative to the school as a whole. Commissioners, appointed by the president with two-thirds approval by the Senate, have the duty to put into execution either individually or with chosen committees the approved projects, plans and activities. Two senators, a boy and a girl, from each class represent their class in the Student Senate.

The four Class Councils, senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman, constitute the lower house of legislature. They have as members the class officers, two senators, an elected representative from every conference room, and a class moderator. It is the duty of the group, specifically the senators, to voice the wishes of the class in the senate and when the senate declares it a possibility to carry it into reality.

The home room is governed by the four officers and the conference teacher. The president is the delegate to the respective Class Council while the vice president becomes his alternate.

The General Assembly composed of all conference room representatives and all members of the senate, meets monthly to co-ordinate the activities of the four Class Councils, to hear the decisions of the Student Senate, and to discuss ideas and suggestions for the betterment of Central. It is the supreme student legislative body of the school.

The Judicial Department is the form of Student Court directed by the Commissioner of Justice. It is so constituted as to resemble the American Courts of Justice.

The principal of the school, by his office, is the final voice in every endeavor of the Student Council.

The

Almost everyone reads The Centric! This has been the slogan of the two senior Journalism classes, whose task it was to publish Central's bi-weekly student newspaper.

Subscribers receive fourteen issues, which consist of student and faculty news, school activities, sports coverage, alumni news and editorial commentaries.

This year a precedent has been set in which the task of putting out the 14 issues has been equally divided between one journalism class under the co-editorship of Mary Hayes and Martin Campbell and the other which was led by

1. Co-Editors: Carol Balasz, Mary Ellen Evans.
2. Leonard Jones, Mary Sue Honeberger, Barbara Love, Neil Frankenhauser get the mail ready.

Accompanying the co-editors in their work were the first, second, third and fourth page editors, the business and circulation staffs, along with the necessary reporters, proofreaders and typists.

The second innovation of the year was the inauguration of the cartoon series which sprang from the talented pen of Neil Frankenhauser.

In past years, The Centric has consistently maintained a superior rating in the annual School Press Convention, held at Bowling Green State University. This year's staffs merited the same honor at the May 3 Convention.

In acknowledgement of the 25th anniversary of the ordination of Msgr. Harrington, the Centripetal staff this year selected his priestly hands as they guide each phase of school life to be the thread which binds the yearbook together. After selection of the theme the staff began work—first by selling ads and, with the entire senior class, soliciting patrons. The senior and underclass editors worked on the students pictures and identifications.

The associate editors compiled the Classes section and the Organization editors began laboring on the Faculty and Organization sections, while the sports editors drew up plans for their division. Meanwhile, the business manager, the ad managers, circulation staff, and typists were diligently slaving to keep up with their numerous duties. With the immeasurable aid of the boys art department, and the school photographers, the pages were set up. The write-ups were completed by the members of the class and the initial work was finished. When the copy was proofread, checked, and reproofread, it was ready to be placed in the book.

So, the Centripetal of 1957, the staff believes, is a complete chronicle of the year's events and will be, to the seniors at least, a storehouse of many pleasant memories.

I Remember Mama

Mrs. Roger Weiher
Dramatics Director

"Mama", Mary Lou Modrowski

This year's Senior Play was directed by the very capable and skilled Evelyne L. Weiher. She has been successfully directing this important class undertaking for the last two years. Along with her work on the play she also directs the annual operetta.

I REMEMBER MAMA, a comedy, by John Van Druten, adopted from Kathryn Forbes' "Mama's Bank Account" is one of the most heartwarming studies of American life yet to reach the stage.

It shows how Mama, (Mary Lou Modrowski), with the help of her husband, (Jon Klotz), and Uncle Chris, (Tom McWilliams), brings up the children, Katrina, (Pat Noonan), Dagmar, (Nancy Gentner), Christine, (Catherine Walkowski), and Nels (Bob Powers), in their modest San Francisco home during the early years of the century.

Mama, a sweet and capable manager, sees her children through childhood, educates them and sees Katrina begin her career as a writer.

Mama's sisters, Sigrid, (Pat Hogan), Trina, (Mary Duwve), and Jenny, (Sheila O'Loughlin) along with the boarder Mr. Hyde, (Robert Babione) provide many laughs and a few tears.

The play was a tribute to mothers the world over whose everyday sacrifices go unpraised; whose love often transcends formal learning to give them the same instinctive wisdom Mama evidences as she says, "Is not good for little ones to be afraid . . . to not feel secure."

1. Mama treats Katrin to a soda.
2. Family counts the money for Katrin's shoes.
3. Trina and Mr. Torkelson gaze at "little Peter."
4. Aunt Sigrid and Jenny advise Trina not to marry an undertaker.
5. Mr. Hyde tells a story.

6. Christine is not interested in graduation gifts.
7. Telegram for Florence Dana Morehead.
8. Mama and Nels await Dr. Johnson's verdict on Dagmar.
9. Uncle Chris is comforted on his death bed.

'Call Me Madam'

This year the music department presented for its annual operetta, the light-hearted comedy "Call Me Madam" at the State Theater, May 3, 4, and 5. The story, taken from the book by Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse, was set to music by the famous Irving Berlin.

Sally Adams, (Darlene Radecki), the famous Washington hostess has just been appointed ambassador to Lichtenburg, and she tackles her assignment with the same vigor and enthusiasm that won her the reputation as "The Hostess With The Mostes On The Ball."

On her staff is a young diplomat, Kenneth, (Thomas Keller), who falls in love with Princess Marie, (Mary Duwve), his first week in Lichtenburg. Sally sympathizes with the two lovers, and she has not been idle either for she is completely overwhelmed by the Prime Minister, Cosmo, (Robert Powers).

The well worth laughing at comedy was provided by the three Congressmen, Gallagher, (Richard Hague-Rogers), Wilkens, (Kenneth Fournier), and Brockbank, (Arthur Martinez), along with Pemberton Maxwell, (Jack Muenzer).

Sally is an unpretentious straightforward mid-westerner who pulls no punches and assumes no contrived manners. Unfortunately her naivete and frankness involved her in protocol and diplomatic intrigue.

The solving of her problems as Madam Ambassador without the sacrifice of her diplomatic principles made an excellent plot for the highly amusing and fast moving musical.

Some of the outstanding numbers sung by the entire cast were: "Lovely Day", "The Ocarina", "You're Just In Love", and "Can You Use Any Money Today?".

Washington's society meets at Mrs. Sally Adams' party.

Music Department

The purpose of musical education is to aid students to acquire such an understanding and appreciation of music that they will seek and enjoy as recreation the spiritual influence of music in the home and the concert hall.

Central's music department offers every type of musical activity. The band, orchestra, and the mixed chorus are conducted by Mr. Gerald V. DePrisco. Instrumental classes for beginners are taught by Mr. DePrisco and Joseph Sainton.

Classes, for which one-half credit may be earned, are held every day in the Music Building. Students from these classes form the nucleus of Central's marching band or orchestra.

Mr. Gerald V. DePrisco, Music Director.

The Mixed Chorus

The Mixed Chorus of approximately ninety voices is conducted by Mr. Gerald V. DePrisco. This group sang at numerous assemblies throughout the year; they appeared on TV programs; caroled at the B. R. Baker Co., at St. Anthony Orphanage, Mercy Hospital, St. Vincent's Hospital, and at the homes of the priests and sisters of Central's faculty.

Their splendid performance at the State Theater of the Broadway Musical, "Call Me Madam", will long be remembered. Their fine vocal contributions traditionally enhance the Commencement Exercises at the Sports Arena.

Band

The marching band this year consisted of seventy-five members. Under the direction of our capable band leader, Mr. Gerald V. DePrisco this group gave many fine performances. Their merit was given recognition in a letter of commendation and praise from the Chamber of Commerce. The band performed at the dedication of the Craig Memorial Bridge. Their outstanding trip of the season was to Massillon. Their performances and half-time shows at the football games were deserving of highest praise. The band also participated in the Labor Day, Christmas, and Memorial Day parades, and in many assemblies during the year; their crowning achievement and final appearance was at Commencement Exercises at the Sports Arena.

8. Sousaphones: D. Foster, E. Forgette, J. Toth.
9. Dancers: M. Duwve, S. O'Loughlin, S. Ondrus, P. Machinski, M. Bialorucki.

Elaine Quetschke, Judith Francis.

Orchestra

The orchestra, composed of twenty-nine members made a tour of five of the larger elementary schools of the city, and gave programs which were an excellent demonstration of their abilities and accomplishments. They were enthusiastically received by all, and their purpose—to arouse interest in the younger students in instrumental group performance—was accomplished.

The orchestra, as is traditional, furnished the incidental music for the Senior Play. Their performances at assemblies, chief of which was the Christmas assembly, added to the enjoyment of the audiences. At the musical drama "Call Me Madam" this group's rendition of the music enabled the leads and choruses to present to the city of Toledo an outstanding operetta.

Homecoming Queen, Carol Stygoski.

Homecoming Queen

Choosing the Homecoming queen was a matter of great importance to every Centralite but especially to the seniors who planned the procedure, conducted the campaign and the election, and carried out the ceremonies.

With the five victorious candidates finally in the focal spot and attended by their escorts, the parade, which formed at school and consisted of more than a hundred selected cars, sped its way to the Glass Bowl following the specially-formed police escort. At half time the secret of the balloting was announced and Carol Stygoski was crowned Queen by Student Council President, Otto Smoktonowicz, while Sheila O'Loughlin, Barbara Rokicki, Carol Ryan, and Catherine Walkowski became her attendants.

The primary objective of this Red-Letter day was accomplished. The stadium was packed to its capacity by not only student Centralites but also by a tremendous turnout of THE ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF CENTRAL. This organization formed last June, which consists of more than 1500 members, has as its sole purpose the uniting of all graduates and friends of Central in one great aim—the promotion of more and greater activity in all departments—athletics, music, scholastic, as well as social.

To climax the victory on the football field the HOMECOMING DANCE sponsored by the new organization was held in Central's gym with the seniors as the honored guests.

Queen and Attendants at Homecoming Festival

Arlene Printke, Otto Smoktonowicz, Sheila O'Loughlin, John Graham, Barbara Rokicki, James Buehrer, Carol Stygoski, Thomas Hartnett, Catherine Walkowski, Lawrence Scripp, Carol Ryan, Jon Klotz.

Ila Thurlow, James McDaniels, Francis Justen, and Judith Welsheimer are enjoying the refreshments.

Junior—Senior Prom

The Junior Class, under the direction of Miss Sally O'Connell, sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom on May 10, at the Women's Building. The rhythmic orchestra of James Huber supplied music to enhance the beauty of the theme, "Caribbean Interlude."

May Crowning

One of the outstanding activities during the school year is the annual May Convocation, in which the entire student body participates. A procession advances to the front campus where Our Lady is crowned Queen of May. The ceremony also includes the recitation of the rosary, singing of hymns, and an address in honor of Our Lady who is Our Queen and Patroness.

Row 3: Annette Biernacki, Robert Huss, Thomas Haverbush.

Graduation

These seniors, after four years of hard work, are proud to be honored as the top ten in their class. They are anticipating the arrival of June 5 when they, with the other members of their class, will receive their diplomas. The exercises will be held at the Sports Arena. Msgr. Robert Yates, a graduate of the Class of '32, will appear as the guest speaker.

LANDMARKS OF PROGRESS...

in TOLEDO—Glass Center of the World

These four buildings reflect the technological achievements of Owens-Illinois Glass Company, whose physical growth has left these indelible impressions on the industrial face of Toledo.

Duraglas Center
14th & Adams

Customer service facilities, staffed by nearly 500, offer Owens-Illinois customers the advantages of specialized package design, product and packaging research, and marketing services.

Owens-Illinois Building
Madison & St. Clair

More than 1,000 Toledo-area residents work in the O-I General offices—directing activities of 27,000, coast to coast.

Libbey Glass Division Plant
Ash & Champlain

Home of fine Libbey table glassware, this manufacturing plant employs more than 1,200 and is one of 31 Owens-Illinois plants across the nation.

Owens-Illinois Technical Center
1700 North Westwood

The world's largest and most complete glass research facility, housing 500 scientists, engineers and technicians.

Whence the Name Jeep?

Ever wonder where the name Jeep came from?

Some say that GIs named it during World War II when the vehicle was listed as General Purpose, or GP . . . Others say it was named after the little do-anything character of the Popeye cartoon . . . But regardless, the name Jeep is firmly imprinted on all those vehicles leaving the Willys factory here in Toledo . . . It is a proud name and one known around the world. Central Catholic High School has a proud heritage too. The men and women who produce the world-famous Jeep salute the boys and girls who tomorrow will take their places as citizens of Toledo.

Fiberglas materials, in many versatile forms, provide comfort, economy, efficiency and quality in thousands of products. Small wonder people say . . . What'll they do next with Fiberglas materials? The only limit is man's ingenuity. Sparking that ingenuity and helping it work new wonders continues to be our job and challenge at Owens-Corning. In the years ahead, you'll see many more reasons why we can promise . . .

Fiberglas is in your life . . for Good!
